Laird

Laird, 41, now serving his 12th year in the House, was vice chairman of the 1960 platform committee which was headed then by Charles Percy of Chicago, a Republican candidate for the governorship of Illinois.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said at a recent news conference that he expects to announce the chairman of the 1964 GOP platform committee soon.

It is expected this announcement will come within a month and Laird will be named to the post. It is understood that his name now is being cleared with Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and other potential candidates for the presidential nomination, and with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

If Laird is named to the job, it is likely that the platform presented to the Republican national convention for approval next year will be far shorter than the 1960 platform which was some 35,000 words in length.

Laird was chairman of the joint House-Senate committee named in 1962 to write a statement of Republican principle and policy which was later unanimously adopted by House and Senate Republican members and by the Republican National Committee.

This statement of GOP philosophy was boiled down to some 3,000 words.

BAMAKO, Mali (AP) — The cease-fire in the Algerian-Moroccan desert war doesn't take effect until midnight Friday, and already the two North African neighbors disagree about what they've agreed to.

Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella and King Hassan II of Morocco signed the agreement Wednesday night with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali.

Selassie's Formula Based on a compromise formula drawn up by Selassie, it called for:

1. A cease-fire all along the Moroccan-Algerian border at midnight on the night of Nov. 1-2.
2. Withdrawal of Moroccan forces from territory claimed by Algeria.
3. Demilitarization of all evacuated territory with officers of Ethiopia and Mali supervising.
4. A commission to be set up by the foreign ministers of the Organization of African Unity to determine the responsibility for the recent fighting in the Sahara, examine Morocco's territorial claims and recommend a solution.

3 German Miners To Be Rescued Friday

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) — Three German miners, trapped for more than a week in a flooded iron mine, will be brought to the surface Friday morning, a spokesman for the mine management said today. There had been speculation they might get out tonight.

Difficulties in constructing an effective air seal at the top of a rescue shaft delayed the drilling of the last section. There were still 62 feet to be bored through to the gallery where the men have been imprisoned by floodwater since last Thursday.

The three were trapped 259 feet below the surface in a pocket of air compressed by water from a broken dam which claimed the lives of 40 other miners in the pit.

Aim at Full Religion Ban In Schools

RED WING, Minn. (AP)—The Red Wing school board has voted to take religion out of the public schools by doing away with baccalaureates and changing the character of Christmas and Easter concerts.

The board announced a policy decision, passed by a 5-1 vote. The dissenting member, Wayne Loomis, accused the others of taking a "publicly-banned" attitude. He added that Red Wing has in no way violated the letter or intent of U.S. Supreme Court decisions, and therefore the policy statement was not necessary.

The board explained its action with this introduction: "Recent decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court have made it clear that it is not the province of a public school to support or discourage religious beliefs or practices."

Schools will not sponsor the traditional baccalaureate services for graduating classes. Easter and Christmas programs won't be called by those names, and music will be chosen on its merits, rather than for any religious connection.

The board also said there will be no dramatization of Bible stories, and free bibles may not be distributed in the schools by the Gideon Society.

Willis Changes Proposal for Chicago Schools

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Board of Education has taken under consideration a proposal by School Supt. Benjamin C. Willis which would allow more than 2,000 elementary school pupils to transfer to other neighborhoods.

The plan was a drastic change for Willis, who until Wednesday had fought proposed changes in the school system's neighborhood school policy. It required that children attend schools in their own neighborhood.

Willis proposed that schools with classes averaging 36 or more pupils could transfer limited numbers of students to schools where classes averaged 30 or fewer. The change would affect 2,096 pupils in grades five through eight in 49 of Chicago's 550 schools.

Last year, seven schools with classes of 40 or more were allowed to transfer pupils to schools with classes of 30 or fewer. Only 34 children applied for transfers, and 28 actually transferred.

Window Washer Falls To Death in Milwaukee

Withdrawal Due Before End of Year, General Says

TOKYO (AP)—America's top military commander in South Viet Nam said today at least 1,000 of the 15,000 American troops in Viet Nam will be on their way home within two months.

The statement by Gen. Paul D. Harkins, made in Saigon to a correspondent of the Stars and Stripes, was in line with a White House announcement earlier this month.

The White House said after an inspection trip by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to South Viet Nam that 1,000 American military personnel who have been training Vietnamese troops probably could be withdrawn by the end of this year.

"Victory Months Away" Harkins told the Stars and Stripes "victory in the sense it would apply to this kind of war" is just months away.

"There won't be any victory parades as such," Harkins said, "because there will be sporadic incidents for a long time to come. But I can safely say that the end of the war is in sight."

Communist guerrillas routed a 120-man company of crack South Vietnamese special forces 140 miles southwest of Saigon Tuesday. The guerrillas killed 20 of the government troops, wounded 30 and were believed to have taken 15 men prisoner, including all three American military advisers with the company.

Many Traffic Tickets Missing in John Doe Quiz in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Numerous traffic tickets were found to be missing when John Doe investigators began examining Wednesday records subpoenaed from the County Sheriff's Dept.

Sheriff Michael S. Wolke confirmed that numerous tickets were unaccounted for along with a page that had been cut out of an official daily log.

The traffic ticket records were turned over to the John Doe investigators by Wolke at the request of Circuit Judge John L. Coffey.

The sheriff said he did not know how many tickets were missing. Wolke said that five deputies who resigned during the current investigation admitted that they had destroyed records of fixed tickets.

Judge Coffey, who is presiding over the investigation, said that examination of the records had just begun and he had received no report on what had been found.

U.S. Acts to Deport 3 U. N. Delegates

Trio Reported Ready to Fly to Moscow Friday Night

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Three members of the Soviet U.N. delegation accused by the United States of taking part in a spy plot will leave for Moscow Friday night, informed sources said today.

The United States demanded Wednesday that the three be expelled from U.S. territory on grounds they violated diplomatic immunity by helping another Russian and an American electronics engineer in an attempt to gain top secret information from a New Jersey firm engaged in government work.

The Soviet U.N. mission declined to say whether it would comply with U.S. demand, but the informed sources said the three have booked airline passage for the trip back to Moscow.

The Russian government was expected to protest the expulsion order and reject the espionage charge. A member of the Soviet U.N. delegation claimed the case was a provocation to prevent further improvement of U.S.-Soviet relations.

The three ordered expelled were Gleb A. Pavlov, 39, an attaché; Yuri A. Romashin, 38, third secretary; and Vladimir I. Olenov, 37, identified only as a member of the Soviet delegation.

Briefcase Involved

The Federal Bureau of Investigation linked the three with two persons arrested on spy charges in a railroad station parking lot in Englewood, N.J., Tuesday night—Igor A. Ivanov, 33, of New York City, Russian chauffeur for AMTORG, the Soviet government trade agency, and John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, N.J., control administrator for the International Electric Corp. of Paramus, N.J.

The FBI said Butenko met Ivanov, Pavlov and Romashin in the parking lot and handed them a briefcase containing data on "a highly sensitive Air Force contract" being handled by International Electric.

The corporation is working on a worldwide electronic control system for the Strategic Air Command.

Romashin and Pavlov were arrested with Ivanov and Butenko but were released because of their diplomatic status. FBI agents said they found a minute document copier that worked from a cigarette lighter in Pavlov's car.

Peonage Charge Filed In South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — An indictment charging a white Florence County farmer with holding a Negro worker in slavery and peonage was returned by a federal grand jury Wednesday.

The two-count indictment alleges that Robert Moultrie Cook, 54, used force and violence on April 27 to make Max Roy McKenzie, a Negro, work against his will.

It also accuses Cook of causing the arrest of McKenzie with the intent of placing the Negro in a condition of peonage.

Find Enriches Teacher

MOLDY BUNDLE ON BATTLEFIELD AT GETTYSBURG VALUED AT $54,200

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high school teacher who had to have another look at the Gettysburg battlefield got the glorious news today—that "moldy stuff" he scooped up last June is worth $54,200.

"I feel sick. My legs are still shaking. Wow."

Treasury Sets Value

That was George C. Rappport's response when told by a newsman that the cache of mutilated currency he turned in to the Secret Service in New York last July has a redemption value that the Treasury sets at $54,200.

Rappport has been waiting since then to hear from the government. The Massapequa Park, N.Y., man said that except for his wife Ruth, he has told nobody else about his find. "It would just be my luck to run into something and get into trouble," said Rappport, 48, a social studies teacher at a Bellmore, N.Y., high school.

Last June 26 the vacationing Rappports and their two children, Eileen, 17, and Jack, 13, visited the Gettysburg battlefield in Pennsylvania.

They toured the Civil War site, but Rappport said: "You know how it is on a tour. Things go so fast you can't appreciate everything. So we went back."

Next day Rappport was walking by the Eternal Light Peace Memorial at the Gettysburg National Military Park. His wife and two children were in their car nearby.

On the ground lay a rotted bundle.

"There was no one around," Rappport recalls. He picked it up—"I had no idea what was inside"—and placed it in the trunk of the car.

Later, he put it in the cellar of his home.

"I couldn't possibly spend any of it. It didn't look like currency. It was too moldy."

"About 10 days later, I didn't know what to do with it, so I reported it to the Secret Service in New York."

He says he was called to Washington by the Secret Service about three weeks ago to tell his story.

W. T. Howell, deputy treasurer of the United States, said the mutilated currency was forwarded to Washington to see how much was redeemable.

Howell checked the National Park Service to see if it had any claim under law. He was told it did not.

Howell then notified the Internal Revenue Service since such findings are subject to federal income tax.

Check on Tax Claim

That is where the matter stands now, Howell said, with the Revenue Service checking on whether it has a tax claim.

Howell said he could foresee no hitches, that once the Revenue Service is done Rappport will get his money.

Rappport knows how he'll spend the money.

Rain and Snow End Drought in New England

Of Snow Cover Some Portions of Maine

CHICAGO (AP)—Rain, snow and cloudy skies covered Northern areas of the nation today from the Rockies into New England.

More rain and snow pelted northern New England, ending the long drought in most areas. One to three inches of fresh snow fell in eastern parts of Maine and the season's first winty storm dumped more than 18 inches of snow in some parts of the state.

Six persons, including four hunters, were lost in northern Maine wilderness areas in near-blizzard conditions.

Snow in Wyoming

Snow also fell in Wyoming and Colorado, with four inches in Leadville, Colo., and smaller amounts in Lander and Casper, Wyo.

In the Midwest, still in need of heavy, steady rains to ease drought conditions, light rain fell from southern Wisconsin westward through South Dakota and northern Nebraska as well as into northern sections of Illinois and Indiana and western Lower Michigan.

Hunting Curb Listed

The rain and snow in New England prompted officials in Maine, Massachusetts and Rhode Island to lift restrictions on outdoor burning and the public use of woodlands. Restrictions also were lifted in most of New Hampshire but continued in Vermont and three New Hampshire counties as well as in New York and New Jersey.

Sunny skies were indicated for most of the Atlantic Coast states except Maine. But more

Danny Thomas Says This His Last Season On Weekly Television

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Danny Thomas is quitting weekly television while he's still on top. He announced today this will be the last season of his Monday night show.

The 49-year-old comedian confirmed recurring rumors that his 11th year with a network show would be his last. He made the announcement in the same week that an audience survey listed him among the top 10 shows, a position he has held several years.

"I know I've said I plan to retire for the past several seasons," he said, "but this time I meant it."

He added that he plans to do six hour-long specials during the 1964-65 season.

rain was in prospect from the southern Great Lakes region and lower Ohio Valley westward into the Central Rockies.

Mostly clear weather prevailed in other parts of the nation.

Rumors About Vice President 'Inconceivable'

Democrats Will Not Dump Johnson in
'64, Humphrey Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said today "it is inconceivable" that Vice President Lyndon Johnson will be dumped from the 1964 Democratic ticket.

Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader, described as "unwarranted speculation" reports that he is a possible substitute for Johnson as President Kennedy's running mate in his bid for a second term.

"It is inconceivable that Vice President will not be renominated," the Minnesotan said in an interview. "He has done a fine job and I am for him."

Humphrey, who is expected to lead the fight in the Senate for Kennedy's civil rights legislation, noted that Johnson supports this measure and has worked and spoken for racial equality.

This activity has diminished Johnson's popularity in the South, where the former senator from Texas helped Kennedy win the presidency in 1960.

But Humphrey said he doesn't think the party would be any better off with some other vice presidential candidate either in the South or in the North.

No Solution

"We won't solve our problems by temporizing with them or substituting another candidate for Johnson," he said.

President Kennedy made it clear a year ago last May in a news conference that Johnson "will be on the ticket if he chooses to run." Johnson does choose to run.

Kennedy's associates said Johnson's renomination is such an accepted fact around the White House that the President hasn't even bothered to discuss it with the vice president.

Phantom Bugler Strikes Again

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The phantom bugler, who knows the secret phone number for hooking into the Eastern Air Lines public address system, has struck again.

For months, the bugler has sporadically serenaded Miami employees with "Taps," apparently tooted on a toy trumpet.

Last week, a hangar sprinkler system suddenly spouted. As crews began to mop up, the public address system clicked on and the familiar trumpet began.

Man Suffocates in Eau Claire Laundry

EAU CLAIRE (AP)—William George, 51, co-owner of the Eau Claire Laundry Co. suffocated Wednesday from steam escaping from a boiler in the basement of his plant.

Authorities said that George died from inhaling the steam after he went to the basement to blow out the boiler's flues and drain the tank. When he failed to return, his partner, Ed Klish, also 51, attempted to enter the basement but was driven back by the steam. Firemen found George on arrival.

Oshkosh Man Had No Stamp For Gambling

Martin Wesenberg Charged by Federal Commissioner Today

Martin H. (Marty) Wesenberg, 40, Oshkosh, was charged with failure to obtain federal gambling stamps over a three-year period when brought before Federal Court Commissioner Patrick Coughlin here early this afternoon.

Wesenberg, a bartender by trade, signed a $1,000 bond as recommended by Federal Judge Robert E. Tehan, Milwaukee, who authorized the federal warrant.

A federal grand jury indicted Wesenberg specifically for not obtaining the required $50 federal gambling stamp for the years 1961 through 1963-64.

Federal authorities charged Wesenberg with "accepting wagers and conducting gambling pools" in Winnebago and Outagamie Counties.

He was charged with "knowingly and willfully failing to pay the required $50."

Other Ventures

The indictment also said Wesenberg "aided and abetted" another Oshkosh man in gambling ventures.

Two intelligence agents for the internal revenue department, who brought Wesenberg from Oshkosh to Appleton, said others would be charged as a result of grand jury indictments. Names were withheld pending their being taken into custody.

Informed of his constitutional rights by Coughlin before the latter set bail, Wesenberg said he did not want the services of an attorney. He will be arraigned in a federal court at a later date.

Wesenberg, a father of three children ages 10 to 16, resides at 82 Lake St. He has lived in Oshkosh all his life. He works at Jerry's Ace of Clubs, 109 Commerce St.

The indictments are resulting from a gambling crackdown by the internal revenue department in the Fox River Valley area.

Parish Buys Rectory

Will Serve as Headquarters for St. Thomas More

The new St. Thomas More Catholic Parish has purchased a rectory at 1825 N. McDonald St. across from the future site of the church.

The Rev. Patrick McMahon, pastor, said the new rectory will serve as the parish headquarters and some groups will meet there. The congregation temporarily is holding Sunday masses at the Rainbow Gardens Ballroom.

Willard Johnson and Dr. Robert Scherzinger have been appointed co-chairmen of the parish finance committee. Ray McCone is parish treasurer and John S. Toppins, parish secretary.

Holy Name

The organizational meeting of the new Holy Name Society will follow the 7 p. m. mass Friday, The Feast of All Saints, at Rainbow Gardens. The Rev. Sylvester Borusky, Green Bay, diocesan Holy Name director, will attend.

Father McMahon said building plans for the parish are indefinite both as to the date on construction and the type of buildings. He now is contacting the 560 members of the new parish, organized this fall through a division of St. Therese Parish.

St. Thomas More Parish owns a 10-acre site bounded by McDonald Street, Glendale Avenue, an extension of Pauline Street, and a row of houses facing Owassa Street.

Women's Group

Officers of the newly-organized women's group are Mrs. Louis Mauthe, president; Mrs. Joseph Baumann, vice president; Mrs. Orville Yingling, secretary, and Mrs. Roland Jilek, treasurer. The group will meet at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the rectory.

Father McMahon said a choir, scouts and other parish groups also will be organized.

The parish now has three masses on Sundays at 8, 9:30 and 11 a. m. The Rev. Richard Wochenske, director of the Neenah-Menasha Apostolate, offers the 11 a. m. mass.

Lawrence Sorority Collects Canned Goods for Red Cross

The Pi Beta Phi Sorority at Lawrence College will conduct a Halloween collection of canned goods for the Red Cross tonight.

About 40 sorority members will take part in the collection starting at 7:30 p. m. in the residential areas surrounding the college. Marcy Hill, a sophomore from Beloit, and Gretchen Weber, a sophomore from Sheboygan, are co-chairmen.

Appleton YMCA Clubs Start Service Drive

Receipts of Candy Sale Will Aid Program to Help Others Around World

The junior and senior Hi-Y and Tri-Y clubs of the Appleton YMCA are conducting a candy sale as their annual fund drive for YMCA World Service.

The young people have set a goal of $1,000, well above the $600 they raised last fall. The sale will continue through Nov. 23. Some 3,000 boxes of candy were distributed to club members this week.

Prizes totaling $120 will be awarded to the top individual salesmen and to the top clubs. Club prizes will be $25, $15, $10 and two $5 prizes. Individual prizes, being given for the first time this year, will be $15, $10, $9, $8, $7, $6 and $5.

Contest Set

Each club will have a drive chairman. Contests are being organized within clubs or in challenges between clubs.

Success in this sale will be one of the yardsticks in deciding which of the high school juniors' Hi-Y clubs sponsors the senior prom—an honor that goes each year to the best junior club.

The proceeds from the candy sale will be added to funds raised in the spring through adult drives to make up the Appleton YMCA's contribution to World Service. The goal last spring was $4,100.

Candy, Jelly

The young people are selling 11 boxes of walnut fudge, mints, almond coconut candy or assorted jellies.

World Service is a joint program of the YMCAs of Canada and the United States to help develop YMCA movements in other countries. It helps to launch new YMCAs and cooperates with already established associations to help meet basic needs for health, education, social and economic welfare and spiritual growth. It was started in 1889.

World Service sends North American YMCA leaders abroad as fraternal secretaries to help develop YMCA movements, pro-

a. m. (high mass). 12 noon and 6:30 p. m. (high mass). Confessions will be from 3 to 5:30 and 7:30 to 9 p. m. today.

St. Pius X Catholic Church will offer All Saints Day masses at 5:30, 7 and 9 a. m. (high mass) and 5:30 p. m. All Souls Day masses will be at 6, 6:30, 7, 8, (high mass), 8:30 and 9 a. m. Confessions will be from 3 to 5 and 7 to 8:30 p. m. today.

St. Therese

Masses on All Saints Day at St. Therese Catholic Church will be at 6, 7, 9 (high mass) and 10:30 a. m., 5:15 and 7 p. m. All Souls Day masses will be at 5:30, 6, 6:30, 7, 7:30, 8, 8:30 and 9 a. m. Confessions will be from 3 to 5 and 7 to 8:30 p. m. today.

Sacred Heart Catholic Church will offer masses on All Saints' Day at 5, 6, 7 and 9 a. m. (high mass), 12:05 and 5:30 p. m. All Souls Day masses will be at 6, 6:30, 7, 7:30, 8, 8:30 and 9 a. m. Confessions will be from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. today.

Since the Feast of All Saints, a holiday, is celebrated on Friday, Catholics are permitted to eat meat.

Kaukauna Getting Full Tax Refund

KAUKAUNA — Karl E. Marzahl, city clerk, has received a letter from the motor fuel tax division of the state motor vehicle department informing him the city is receiving all gasoline rebate tax to which it was entitled.

Early this fall an alderman pointed out the city was declaring a 4-cent tax refund from the federal government for gas used in city-owned vehicles, but was not claiming the six or eight cents paid in state taxes. The clerk was instructed to file for these tax monies and it was estimated the city could realize about $1,200 per year.

Marzahl wrote the state and received an answer indicating, "all units of government within the state, including public institutions, are required to pay the tax on motor fuel which they use in the operation of motor vehicles upon public highways."

Lone exception to this rule, said Marzahl, is gasoline used by vehicles engaged in road work on streets or highways not yet opened to public travel.

Library Board Submits Budget

Kaukauna Tax Levy To Meet $3,850 Increase Asked

KAUKAUNA — The library board has submitted a budget for 1964 of which $40,850 is to be raised by tax levy to the finance committee.

The budget is $3,850 higher than the 1963 figure of $37,000. A letter included with the budget notes a $1,000 figure for capital improvements in 1964 whereas none was listed in the 1963 budget. The remainder of the increase is necessary to compensate for merit pay increases granted librarians in 1963, additional pay increases in July 1964, a salary increase for a new librarian in January and an increase in travel and association dues, according to the letter.

Salary Changes The proposed budget lists $27,810 as salary costs including professional custodial, vacation replacements, casual help, Wisconsin retirement, social security and a contingency fund. A $9,000 appropriation is listed for books, magazines and papers, $600 for insurance, $200 for publicity and promotion, $500 for repair and maintenance, $1,300 for supplies, $400 travel allowance, $1,600 utilities and $40 library association dues.

Total operating expense is listed at $41,450 with $1,600 in revenues anticipated from county aids and fines bringing the operating budget to $39,850. Added to this is the $1,000 capital improvement fund bringing the total to be raised by taxes to $40,850.

Works Board Lists 1964 Paving Plans

Kaukauna Will Tell Priority of Projects In Early Spring

KAUKAUNA — The board of public works has adopted a list of streets for possible paving in 1964, to be reviewed in April to determine which should have priority until $100,000 appropriated in the budget is expended.

Streets being considered are Bel Air Court, Sullivan Avenue from Tenth to Thirteenth Street, Eleventh Street from Sullivan Avenue to Kenneth Avenue, Kenneth from Brill to Tenth Street, W. Fifteenth from Sullivan to Kenneth Avenue, LaFollette Park Road from Reaume Avenue to Brill Street, Orchard Drive, Hillcrest Drive, Fourteenth from Crooks to east of Oakridge, Eighth from Boyd to Cleveland Avenues, W. Eighth from Brill to Eden, Hendricks Avenue from Eighth to Tenth, Lawe Street from DeLanglade to city limits, Tobacnoir Street from Lawe Street to Hyland Avenue, Gertrude Street from Hyland to Highway 55 and Division from Lawe to Hyland Avenue.

Sealcoating projects in the amount of $10,000 are being contemplated for streets in the business area and other residential streets to be selected by the board and the engineer. Sanitary sewer projects in the amount of $23,000 are being considered. These include a Glenview Avenue interceptor to cost $10,000, an $8,000 replacement project on E. Fourteenth Street and a $5,000 project on Tobacnoir Street.

Storm sewer projects amounting to $78,000 are being considered, but this includes payment of $35,000 toward unfinished projects started this year, particularly in the Tenth Street playground area. A $25,000 project is planned for the area near the high school, a $15,500 project for extensions on Harrison Street, W. Seventeenth Street and a separation project on Wisconsin Avenue.

Elected Head of Downtown Kiwanis

William A. Selle was elected president of the Downtown Kiwanis Club of Appleton Wednesday. He will take over the club leadership from George R. Sears, whose term expires at the end of 1963. Hilmar L. Solberg was elected to serve as first vice president, and Andrew F. Blackburn was chosen second vice president.

Selected to serve on the board of directors were Wayne Berkeley, Maurice B. Wood, Marilyn Olson, and Ray Serdy.

Appleton Committee Proposes Common Council Approve Record Board Request of $4.1 Million

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

City budget examiners' Supt. of Schools Royce Kurta defended the record high budget, 350 budget Thursday night and leveled mild criticism at the school system's higher education salary policies.

The 1964 tax levy requested by the board, after deducting anticipated revenues, was $3,337,211—an increase of $408,785 over the 1963 levy.

A recommendation to approve a school board budget of $4,183,350 and requiring a levy of $3,277,211 will go to the common council.

Unanimous Action

The council's finance committee took its unanimous action after Mrs. George Munro, board president, reviewed the budget and urged adoption in its entirety. She upheld the schools' overall salary schedule and said adequate teacher and administrative salaries were required.

The committee felt it could justify its action, emphasizing the $400,000 deletion represents less than 2 per cent of the $4 million-plus request.

Last year the committee trimmed $30,000 from the board of education requests, and the common council concurred. Mrs. Davis told aldermen the board's budget had already been pared down as much as possible while still maintaining "instructional excellence" in the system. She said the board suffered a heavy tuition loss due to the attachment of outlying school districts a year ago, with revenue down $91,000.

However Mrs. Davis pointed out the city's assessed valuation increased this year by 4.02 per cent.

She explained some items deferred last year because of budget limitations were included in this year's requests. Mrs. Davis said operational

Winnebago Hits Multi-Service Bill For Public Projects

OSHKOSH — The Winnebago County board by voice votes this morning declared its opposition to bill 488A to permit the state police to take over the county traffic police departments and to Bill 586S which would permit creation of new governmental units to administer public services over an area including several existing governmental units.

The judiciary committee recommended opposition to this bill, stating it could take away powers from counties which may be part of regional planning groups, that the majority of the members of such governing bodies were not elected by the people directly and because the provision for referendums was unclear.

The opposition to the bill which would allow the state police to take over the county traffic police was recommended by the sheriff, coroner and safety committee.

Vacancy Reported on Planning Commission

KIMBERLY—The village clerk is accepting applications to fill an unexpired term on the planning commission, applications to be filed with the clerk by 7 p. m. Monday.

The term of Gerard Patterson, who has moved from the community, must be filled and his tenure expires May 1, 1964.

Local 1035, Menasha Officials Negotiate

MENASHA — The opening bids now work a 42 1/2 hour week in negotiations between Local 1035 City of Menasha Employees Union and city officials. The meeting was held here Wednesday night and resulted in much talk among the 17 persons present — smoke and argument and little if any achievement except possibly to let each know where the other stands.

Most of the negotiation centered around the union's request for a shorter work week with a 3 per cent pay raise and industrial compensation from the city.

The work week and pay raise has been sought for several years by the union and turned down each time Union mem-

Truck Safety At Marathon Wins Honors

1st Place Award Taken by Twin City Firm at Chicago

MENASHA — National honors for outstanding driver safety performance were won by Marathon Division of American Can Co. in the private truck division of the 32nd National Fleet Safety Contest conducted by the National Safety Council and sponsored by the Private Truck Council of America Inc.

Marathon's Wisconsin and Michigan truck fleet was awarded a first place in its group class in the private truck division of the contest at ceremonies held in conjunction with the 51st National Safety Congress and Exposition at Chicago today.

The award is based on the fleet's safety performance from July 1962 through June 1963. During this period, Marathon drivers operated 1,081,492 vehicle miles and had 97 accidents per 1,000,000 vehicle miles of operation.

Black Watch Charms Arena Audience

BY JACK RUDOLPH Post-Crescent News Service

The highland pipes, dancers, regimental band and drum corps of the Black Watch, Britain's Royal Highland Regiment, took over the vast floor of the arena Wednesday night. For more than two hours they treated a charmed crowd to a panoply of traditional military music, folk song and maneuvers in a style only the British Army can provide.

It was a thoroughly satisfying show that moved with the crisp precision of pride and thorough training. The Highlanders deserved a better crowd than the one that came a long way from filling the hall, although much larger than that which greeted the Royal Scots Greys and Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders last year.

The show isn't easy to describe except in detail, and that would take too long. Essentially, it consisted of alternating appearances of the band and pipers, who marched and counter-marched, playing traditional British and Scottish military and folk music, interspersed with exhibitions of highland dancing.

Comparison Made

Everything was well and smoothly performed, although the overall effect was short of that created by the Greys and Argylls. Less colorful uniforms and poor lighting had something to do with it, but the Black Watch also lacked the snap and precision of their predecessors here.

On the other hand, it had the edge in dancing and the drum corps which was outstanding. Rarely has an arena audience heard such crisp and precise drum work. The Highland Dancers were excellent in every respect.

As was to be expected, the pipers were the hit of the evening and drew the most applause. Whether they were as good as the Argylls only a pipe expert can tell, but they lacked that cock of the shoulders that brought the crowd up every time the Argylls swaggered on stage.

OK 2 Projects at UW Center With Cost of $17,000

OSHKOSH — Two projects for the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center were approved by Winnebago County Board members Wednesday afternoon.

One provides $15,000 in the 1964 budget for Winnebago County's share of expansion and paving of the parking lot and the lighting of the lot. The other approves use of $2,000 in this year's budget for the university center for grading and graveling the north side of the new addition to provide adequate drainage.

Outagamie County is to provide similar amounts since the university center construction and maintenance is shared equally by the two counties.

Blank Pistol Taken From Appleton Man By City Police

A 21-year-old Appleton man who told police he was studying a detective course was "disarmed" Wednesday night of a .22 calibre blank pistol he carried into an Appleton restaurant in a belt holster.

Police said the man bought the pistol two weeks ago and said he planned to use it to start races. He told police that he had been studying a detective course for sometime and was very interested in police investigation and identification.

Police warned the man of the dangers of carrying the simulated weapon and ordered him to discontinue the practice. The police report says the man did not show the weapon or reveal it to the restaurant patrons. Police were called when an employee at the restaurant spotted the gun under the man's coat.

Records Point to 'Lunacy' Factor

Appleton Police Expect Trouble if Moon Full

A full moon — long time associated with the Halloween season, as well as the time of year for the bountiful harvest, may or may not peek through over-cast skies tonight, but if it does, police authorities expect more than just a routine night.

The phases of the moon, to a policeman, have been a "rule of thumb" to go by in anticipating trouble.

The full moon, which according to the calendar will be in its most perfect state Friday night, has long been pictured as the background for hysterical witches as they whip through the skies on their errands of evil.

Superstition

In yester years, when authorities put more weight on superstition than on fact, those affected by fits of madness were said to be affected by the moon and had developed "lunacy" (from the term "lunar").

In today's modern living, police authorities keep one eye on the crime graphs and statistics and the other on the moon phases.

One Appleton Police Department veteran of over 30 years has stated that the full moon is an "indisputable" indication that trouble is on the way.

Morals Crimes

Crimes involving morals or offenses of one sort or another seem to be the most prevalent during the final phase of the moon.

This week, as the moon grew toward its fullest phase, the department began checking three serious morals charges. The previous three weeks had been relatively quiet.

With the increase in the moon phase — and generally after a hot spell or a long spell of inclement weather — authorities can expect an outbreak of family complaints, fights, and other nuisance complaints.

County Holds 200 Acres Of Tax Deed Land for Hunting, Fishing Use

OSHKOSH — Tax deeds to several properties in the Town of Winnebago and Town of Wolf River will be kept by the county and used for fishing, hunting and other recreational purposes.

Involved is a 30.64 acre site in the Town of Winnebago which adjoins 516.97 acres already owned by the county and acquired through tax deed several years ago. Both of these properties are under water and located in Lake Butte des Morts.

The Town of Wolf River property being kept amounts to 169.10 acres and this too is under water. It is located along the Wolf River outlet into Lake Poygan in Sections 33 and 24 of the Town of Wolf River.

'Meanest Man' Steals Book Intended for Ill Child

MENASHA — The meanest man in town made his mark here Tuesday night when he (or she) took an autographed Green Bay Packer book from a seriously ill child.

The book, taken from a car parked on Chute Street, was Vince Lombardi's "Run to Daylight." It was autographed by all the Packer team, Lombardi, and Paul Hornung.

Mal Kennedy, 345 Elm St., Menasha, who spent several months collecting the autographs, said the book was for "Jimmy", who lives in Rockton, Ill. Jimmy is seriously ill.

Kennedy said no questions will be asked if the book is returned either to him or the police.

Police are investigating several other thefts Wednesday night. Walter Dorow, 308 Third St., Menasha, reported a $50 fishing rod and reel taken at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Menasha Dam.

Eugene Akstulewicz, 641 Seventh St., Menasha, reported his bicycle stolen Wednesday.

Police also are seeking the owner of a cash box found at 7 p.m. Wednesday in front of the Model Bakery, 202 Main St., Menasha. The box was empty.

Collision Course Predicted for Negro and City's White Minority

Plans Prepared for Inroads Into Aristocratic Old Town

BY DON MCKEE

change its customs or way of life," was the blunt, brief comment of Mayor Chris Heinz.

The voter drive helped precipitate Selma's slow boiling crisis but it is only part of the picture.

In a long list of requests presented months ago to the City Council, the Dallas County Voters League called for a non-segregation policy in all public buildings, efforts toward better jobs for Negroes — including their employment as policemen.

Situated in the heart of the black belt, named for its rich soil activities in Selma are far more significant to Alabama's rural white population than are the ones in Birmingham, Mobile or Huntsville where token integration has come.

County Seat

Selma is the seat of Dallas County, where the cotton fields and pasturelands are watered by the Alabama River and where the white people are outnumbered by Negroes. The ratio is nearly 6-4.

In the surrounding counties, the Negro majority is larger.

Negroes are pushing voter registration in the wake of Selma's first street demonstrations. Pickets at downtown stores were arrested and jailed.

White Minority

The white populace, despite its minority, controls the government and the economy—and has not the slightest intention of accepting any desegregation.

"Selma does not intend to

Hospital Parking Lot Almost Ready

The new employee parking lot at St. Elizabeth Hospital will be completed at the end of the week.

The lot, located north of the hospital at the intersection of Oneida and Fremont streets, is intended for employee use at present. During construction of the proposed new wings of the hospital, it also will be used by hospital visitors.

The lot will hold 150 cars now and 194 later, when a hole now used for disposal of ash residue from the coal furnace is filled in. A heating system change is planned as part of the construction program.

A new ambulance and employee entrance to the hospital has been completed. The road leads into the rear of the hospital from the intersection of Fremont and Monroe streets, and provides a straight-line ambulance entrance to replace the former curving entrance.

A new service entrance off Fremont Street will be completed in about five days.

Mediators Trying To End Conflict In North Africa

BAMAKO, Mali (AP) — After a day of haggling, King Hassan II of Morocco and President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria met Wednesday with mediators trying to end the border conflict between the two nations.

The meeting lasted 45 minutes. There was no immediate indication of progress. But the fact that the leaders met face to face for the first time since fighting broke out raised hope for a compromise settlement.

A Moroccan source said, however, that a luncheon Hassan and Ben Bella had been scheduled to attend with the negotiators was called off. Each delegation was eating by itself, the source said.

Ben Bella and Hassan sat down at a conference table in the Mali presidential palace with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali. Since the arrival of Ben Bella and Hassan Tuesday, church accepted Negro worship. Selassie and Keita had been working to bring them together.

Poet Charlie Writes of Halloween Earth Visit of One-Eyed Moon-Man

BY CHARLES HOUSE seen
The "little people" on the moon. That folks on earth have Halloween in a fright and none too soon.
They had learned but had not Zeevl,

"That men on earth are gross and evil;
That once each year they're even meaner—
It's when they're on a Halloween-er.
"They're cruel, I've heard, and go to war."
Because they want what they call "more."
Their guns shoot far, their knives are keen,
Especially on Halloween."
And Zeevl told his gathered prefects
That though the earthmen have some defects,
They could and would, and very soon,
Shoot some menfolk to the moon.

So did Zeevl warn his lieges:
Think in terms of earthy sieges
But he told them, furthermore,
That Moon-folk did not wish for war;
That they all should well prepare
For some earth-folk through air;
For some birds that soar through space
With (aboard) a horrid race.

"I do not fear these men per se,"
Said Zeevl, "Excepting on that single day,
It's when they are of cruelest mien—
I fear them most on Halloween."
"So find a wise man, choose a noble;
Send him earth-ward, make him global.
Make him look like Mr. Clean.
Have him study Halloween."

So the prefects found a spy—
A handsome Moon-man with one eye,
And of Moon-man color (green).
They sent HIM down for Halloween.

He was gone for many a Mars—
Into orbit through the stars.
And then return'd with what he'd seen
Of the earth-man's Halloween.

"Well," he said, at first ad-libbing,
"Please don't think that I am fibbing.
There is no cause to give us fright
Of the earth-man's Hallowed night."

"Earth-men all have faces horrid—
Some are pinkish, some are florid;
But, my friends, oh what a sight—
Their faces are, in general, WHITE!"

"They do not look like me and you.
Eyes they have—but they wear TWO!
Hair they have, but on their HEAD!
They look like moon-frogs who are dead."

"But even though they are not pretty,
They seem kind and they seem ed witty.
They seldom "fix" themselves, nor preen
Except on one night—Halloween."

"On that night they paint their faces,
Rid themselves of ugly traces;
Don some masks of lovely green
And are pretty—Halloween."

"On that night they wear false teeth
Long on top and sharp beneath.
Lovely fangs that dribble gore—
Just one night but never more."

"Halloween it seems their duty
To primp and preen for Lunar beauty,
And to color themselves green—
But 'tis only on their Halloween."

"On the one night that I mention,
I gave the earth-folk full attention.
To their homes I went to spy
Undisguised, with one eye."

"When the earth-folk looked on me
They cheered and cheered in happy glee.
For here I offer a surprise:
I won their every beauty prize!"

"They gave me presents by the score—
Sweet tasting things and gifts galore.
And every earthman, fat or lean,
Said, "You're the nicest one I've seen!"
"And their prizes! Luscious! Sweet!
Unbelievably good to eat!
And so lovely to ingest
That you'd think the earth is blessed!"
"And now to end this long report;
Let the earth-men all disport,
Help them make their moon-shot clean;
Let them come—on Halloween!"
"Urge them on to teach this station;
It will benefit our nation.
Let them come and be above us—
They have candy, and they love us!"

Chamber Plans
Holiday Auction

Purchases in Kaukauna Will Earn
Money for Sale

KAUKAUNA — Retail promotion fund group of the Chamber of Commerce has adopted a "holiday auction" promotion to run from Nov. 18 through Dec. 6 open to all businessmen in the city.

Plans call for merchants to purchase holiday auction money and this money will be presented customers when they purchase items in the city during a 17-day period. Money will be dispensed on a dollar for dollar basis, thus if a person spends $10 in a participating store, he will receive $10 in auction money.

Participating merchants will donate gifts and the retail group will purchase major gifts which will be sold through a Dec. 7 auction, persons using the auction money they have accumulated by shopping locally.

Purpose of Event
"Purpose of the promotion is to impress upon the Christmas shoppers the value of their money when spent in Kaukauna," said Michael Gerharz and J. J. Martens, co-chairmen. Location of the auction has not yet been determined, but a regular auctioneer will be engaged to handle the sales.

Although the Christmas shopping season will not open officially until Nov. 29, participating businessmen are considering the promotion a part of the Christmas business booster.

Deadline for merchants planning to participate is Nov. 13 and auction money will be available at the banks Nov. 15.

Money will be awarded on cash sales or money received on accounts. Plans have been completed for the 1 p.m. Nov. 30 arrival of Santa Claus which will officially open the Christmas season. Santa is to tour the city on an Alaskan dog sled pulled by several Siberian huskies. He will distribute treats near city hall and climax his visit by officially lighting the Community Christmas tree.

Ripon College Joins
In Sponsorship of Merit Scholarships

Ripon College will sponsor four of the approximately 1,700 merit scholarships to be offered in 1964, the National Merit Scholarship Corp., has announced.

At least 20 colleges and universities will finance more than 200 of the scholarships. Business corporations and similar sources are expected to offer more than 1,000 sponsored merit scholarships, and NMSC will provide about 500.

The college-sponsored merit scholarships are a new development in the merit program. The first such awards were made by nine colleges last April to students entering college this fall. The colleges select the winners of their awards from a candidate list of students who have qualified as finalists in the nationwide competition and who have expressed an interest in attending their institutions.

Man's Life Is Measured By Memorable Ventures

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Every man's life is measured by his memories. They are his mental Baedeker, the fadeless guidebook of the mind.

Memories also are the lasting fingerprints of the soul. No two people, no matter how deeply they shared their lives, ever have quite the same set. We are born individual, and as we age our memories accent that individuality.

Milestones

But they also help keep us mutual. And you've passed a lot of milestones yourself if you can't remember when—he watered the lawn—and it had the most wonderful flavor in the world.

Dad first let you drink from the nozzle of the garden hose as football.

White collar workers earned more than blue collar workers.

Worst Fate

The worst fate that could befall you was to be picked last when the gang was choosing up sides to play a game of scrub ball.

Voters would listen patiently for two hours in the hot sun while a politician orated on the benefits of the protective tariff.

When you wanted to plant a

was only the tumbourine.

Only rich families had oranges except at Christmas—or when one of the children had to take a castor oil.

A specialist was a doctor who charged $3 for an office visit.

Gasoline Dealers Oppose Speeding Up State Road Program

MADISON (AP)—The Retail Gasoline Dealers Association of Wisconsin reported that its board of directors has gone on record in opposition to Gov. John W. Reynolds' accelerated highway building proposal. The governor's plan, called Project 66, would complete the interstate system and build more four-lane roads by 1966. A bond issue and increased automobile and truck registration fees would finance the project. The association's board already has excellent highways and Project 66 is not beneficial for the gasoline dealers nor the motoring public.

'Equal Employment 'Quiet Revolution'

Presidential Committee Has Not Encountered a Ripple of Trouble in Nation's Factories

BY NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP)—A "quiet revolution" in race relations is taking place in the nation's factories and workshops, says the man who runs day-to-day operations of President Kennedy's equal employment program.

"We're not talking about race any more. We're talking about human beings," says Hobart Taylor Jr., 42 and a Negro lawyer from Detroit, is executive vice chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

Vast Power

The committee, which has vast power to stop discrimination in a contract or program involving the federal government, has taken corrective action in about 3,000 cases out of approximately 5,000 complaints since its two years of existence.

"But this does not begin to touch the number of people that have been helped," Taylor said in an interview today in his office in the Labor Department.

Taylor likes to cite as an example the committee's success in persuading U.S. Steel Corp.'s Tennessee Coal and Iron Division in Birmingham, Ala., to freezing racial lines in promotion and seniority.

No Trouble

The program caused not a ripple of racial trouble, Taylor said, even though it began when Negroes were demonstrating in Birmingham earlier this year.

While only 15 Negroes in the Birmingham plant had lodged complaints, the action helped there, 7,000 others who worked there. The plant has some 30 per cent Negro workers.

Taylor works under Vice President Lyndon Johnson, the committee chairman, and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, vice chairman.

Employment

He estimated the equal employment program applies to some 22 million workers—those working for firms under federal contracts involving billions of dollars a year, and federal government employees.

Although the committee is the first such body to have enforcement powers, Taylor is proud of the fact that it has never had to cancel a federal contract to get compliance.

"We've been on the verge of it but never had to do it," he said.

Colleges to Face Higher Enrollments

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The small private colleges are going to bear a steadily increasing enrollment demand because of a rising level of affluence, the president of Cornell University said Wednesday.

Speaking to university alumni, Dr. James A. Perkins said that more people will be able to send their children where it's not so crowded putting a major burden on the small schools.

Perkins noted, however, that tax supported universities still are enrolling more and more of the nation's college students.

He said that at present about 58 per cent of all college students are attending state schools, with 42 per cent at private schools.

The pressures will be particularly intense on the hundred best schools academically, Perkins said.

He took over as president of Cornell, Ithaca, N.Y., in July.

Fight to Free Integrationists Goes to Georgia Federal Court

Five Leaders Charged With Conspiracy To Injure, Oppress, Intimidate Citizens

BY DON MCKEE
AMERICUS, Ga. (AP)—Efforts to free five integrationist leaders from jail moved into a federal courtroom today on petitions for an injunction against state, county and city authorities.

A legal broadside in behalf of the youthful prisoners, held nearly three months, is aimed at blocking further prosecution of charges or arrests or other interference with integration activities.

Hearing the suits are Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of Atlanta, chief judge of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, and District Judges J. Robert Elliott of Columbus and Lewis R. Morgan of LaGrange.

Complaints Filed

Complaints filed by attorneys for the prisoners charge that officials entered into a conspiracy "to injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate citizens."

Four of the youths, charged with trying to incite insurrection, have been held without bail to these petitioners except to deprive them of their rights of freedom of speech and assembly."

No Supreme Court action is expected until state officials have submitted a reply to the petition.

The arrests last August thwarted a month-long integration drive which included picketing of a segregated movie theater and street marches.

Fifth Prisoner

The fifth prisoner is Thomas McDaniel, 19, of Americus, a Negro. He is charged with riot, unlawful assembly, assisting escape and assault with intent; bond is set at $12,000. These charges also were filed against Harris, Perdew and Allen.

McDaniel, Harris, Perdew and Allen petitioned the U.S. Supreme Court Wednesday for help in gaining release on bond.

The petition was filed for them by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. It said, "There is no basis for denial of reason-

U.S., Russian Idea Shelved

Would Have Created Direct Air Service Between Countries

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Russia have quietly shelved the idea of establishing a direct New York-Moscow air service.

Officials declined to say why, but there were hints that neither side was too enthusiastic about it now at the end of the summer tourist season.

Agreement Near

The two countries were near an agreement on the air route in 1961 when the Soviets built Tennessee Coal and Iron Division in Berlin, suddenly freezing the international clearance racial lines in promotion and seniority.

The issue was revived last summer when, in the wake of the limited nuclear test ban pact, the administration listed it among the bilateral problems the two countries should seek to solve.

It was proposed that Pan American World Airways and Russia's Aeroflot should have one flight a week.

Surprise

The decision to shelve the idea caused some surprise, as the air route was one of the promising U.S.-Soviet issues. Negotiations on another bilateral issue, the opening of consulates in Chicago and in Leningrad and the signing of a consular convention, are continuing and progress is satisfactory, but slow, informants said.

The United States and the Soviet Union have no consulates outside their embassies in the two capitals since 1948, the year first such body to have enforcement powers, Taylor is proud of the fact that it has never had to cancel a federal contract to get compliance.

Speaking at Brown University Wednesday night, she said American politics still is dirty even though not as dirty as before women entered the field.

Miss Perkins, 81, was secretary of labor from 1933 to 1945.

Christmas Club Members Will Get Savings

$1,559,430,000 Total Sets New Record For Corporation

More than 14 million Christmas Club members will receive checks totaling $1,559,430,000 when the Clubs are paid off in November by some 9,300 banks and savings institutions.

This is a welcome forecast of good business for local merchants," said Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club a Corporation, in making the announcement.

For 12 years Christmas Club surveys have shown club disbursements exceeding a billion dollars each year. Both memberships and dollars saved have steadily climbed. This year tops the 1962 record of $1,573,861,000.

The 1963 survey shows that four states account for some 50 per cent of the memberships with New York leading, followed by Pennsylvania, New Jersey and California.

Surveys by Christmas Club a Corporation show that the total will be used in the following ways: Christmas purchases, $497,829,000 or 30 per cent; savings and investment for future use, $696,960,600 or 42 per cent; year-end bills, $82,971,500 or 5 per cent, and miscellaneous, $99,565,800 or 6 per cent.

Cheesemaker Indicted for Tax Evasion

MILWAUKEE — An indictment charging a Fox Valley cheesemaker with tax evasion was handed down Wednesday by a federal grand jury after testimony of 35 dairy farm operators.

Louis W. Staudenmaier Jr., an assistant U. S. attorney, has been questioning farmers from Waupaca, Outagamie and Shawano counties in secret about the sale of their products to the cheesemaker.

Staudenmaier said the indictment has been impounded until the arrest is made. The hearings will continue, the attorney said. The hearings are similar to those conducted in 1961 which resulted in arrests of several Fox Valley cheesemakers later convicted of tax evasion.

The investigation centers around charges cheesemakers did not report all income they received from creameries for a by-product of cheese making.

Begin Hearing Testimony in Hospital Death

OSHKOSH — A coroner's jury began hearing testimony this morning into the cause of the death of a Winnebago State Hospital patient Sept. 6.

Ervin Kropidowski, 42, Stevens Point, died at the hospital sometime early in the morning of Sept. 6 of internal bleeding, according to testimony by Dr. Pearce Meighan, Appleton pathologist who performed the post-mortem examination.

A patient at the hospital and a former patient, who was at the hospital at the time of the incident, testified they saw aides hitting Kropidowski in the stomach about 2:30 a.m. that morning.

Dr. Meighan testified he found four tears in membrane connecting the stomach to the back, ranging up to 14 inches in length. He said the tears could have been caused by blows or falls.

A nurse testified one of the aides told her Kropidowski had come after him with a stick.

Marquette Man To Give Lecture

Catholic Culture Is Topic of Talk by English Professor

The third lecture in the Marquette University Alumni College series, "The Past and Future of American Catholic Culture," will be given by Dr. John Pick, professor of English and chairman of the Marquette University Committee on Fine Arts.

The lecture will be given at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Xavier High School Commons.

Dr. Pick, a native of Wisconsin, has won international acclaim as a scholar of Gerard Manley Hopkins and as a man of letters. He served as Fulbright lecturer for the state department at the Royal University of Malta.

Dr. Pick received his university training at the universities of Notre Dame, Wisconsin, Harvard and Oxford. He has taught at Harvard, Catholic University of America, Wisconsin University, Boston College, Groton School and St. Edmund College, Ware, England.

As a leader in Milwaukee art circles, Dr. Pick is a member of the board of trustees of the Milwaukee Art Center and has been active in the development of Marquette University's permanent art collection.

Youth Fined $54 For Providing Beer for Minors

NEENAH — A Neenah youth pleaded no contest Wednesday to a charge of procuring beer for minors and was found guilty and fined $54.50 by Judge James V. Sitter in county court branch.

Earlier this week Michael A. Zaitz, 18, 413 Beaulieu Road, Neenah, forfeited $49.50 for failing to report an accident.

Both charges grew out of an accident at 2:25 a.m. Saturday in which a car driven by Zaitz, with three minors as passengers, drove off the end of Forest Avenue onto the Ernst Mahler property, 1450 E. Forest Ave., damaging a tree and breaking off a fence before halting against another tree.

Damage to the property was estimated at $930 while the car damage was set at over $100.

Investigation of the accident revealed that Zaitz had purchased a case of six packs of beer for three 17 year olds which the party of four drank at one of the boy's home.

Ex-Appleton Resident, Oliver Kepler, Dies

Oliver Kepler, 39, 2169 Cass St., Green Bay, a former Appleton resident and field supervisor for the Benefit Trust Life Insurance Co., died at Schofield Wednesday following a heart attack.

Survivors are the widow, three sons, one grandchild, his mother, step-father and two sisters.

Funeral services will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday at Melcore Funeral Home, Green Bay, with the Rev. Edward Haessley officiating. Burial will be in Alouez Cemetery.

Ask $195,000 Fire Budget In Neenah

NEENAH — The requested 1964 budget for the Neenah Fire Department has been set at $195,808 with the proposal submitted to the city clerk's office by Chief Ferd Diesterhaupt.

Salaries of $180,577 are the biggest item in the proposed budget, an increase of $4,000 over '63, while general budget costs are $7,004, outlay $6,628 and ambulance operational costs $1,600.

Regular salaries account for $177,857 with vacation help receiving $2,720.

Operational Costs

Operational costs for '64 are issued to Assembly of God up over $300 from the '63 figure, which is mainly due to the $200 request for sending one church, cost estimated at $600, fireman to mechanics training.

The outlay expenditures forecast features 300 feet of 7-1/2 inch closed entrance to the church.

Assessor Budget

Wednesday the city assessor's office also filled its proposed budget with the city clerk.

This budget is up slightly to $26,550 in '64 from the $26,300 figure in 1963.

Salaries totaling $24,000 took the biggest share of the budget, followed by car allowance of $900.

Church Entrance To be Remodeled

KAUKAUNA — A permit was issued to Assembly of God Church, 315 Main Ave., to re-entire, which is mainly due to the $200 request for sending one church, cost estimated at $600, fireman to mechanics training.

Work is being done by members of the parish and will consist of providing a redwood entrance to the church.

Crash Injures Marion Woman

MARION — Miss Ardis Dieck, Marion, received scalp lacerations about 1 a.m. today when the car in which she was a passenger went out of control and stuck a large tree in the front yard of Mrs. William Wulk. Mrs. Darrell Polzin, also of Marion, driver of the car, was taken to her home by her husband after authorities were called to the scene. Miss Dieck was taken to the hospital.

Chief of Police Jack Betow and Dr. William McInnis were called to the crash. Damage to the car was estimated to be at least $300.

T-C Catholics To Celebrate All Saints Day

NEENAH — Catholic families in Neenah and Menasha will observe All Saints Day Friday in the celebration of special masses. The holy day of obligation is to commemorate all those people who have gained salvation and are enjoying the fruits of heaven. "It is a day for special thanks to God for the grace he has bestowed upon us," observed the Rev. Appleton Education Budget Cut $60,000 expenses were up generally because of the growth of the school system, the need for maintaining adequate salary schedules, and expanded use of school buildings by community groups.

It was estimated that public school enrollment will increase by about 400 students next year.

Kurtz told the committee a recent report listed Appleton's average per-pupil cost at $409 for the 1962-63 term, which he said, was at the bottom of the list for cities of comparable size in Wisconsin. The $409 figure was not broken down to show in what areas the local school system may be high or low when it comes to operational expense, salaries etc.

Lighter Load

Ald. Stoegebauer (4th) opined with the opening of the new St. Bernadette Catholic school next year, the public school load should be lightened somewhat. Board representatives said this was taken into consideration in 1964 projections.

The question of whether the board has investigated the possibility of adopting a teacher merit raise policy was raised by Ald. Fred Ziemann (6th), who said he realized the school system was doing a good job but felt a line would have to be drawn on salary increases.

He was told a special board committee is investigating the pros and cons of a merit system.

High Quality

"I appreciate your desire to maintain the high quality of our schools," Ziemann said, "but in this attempt I wonder if the board may be reaching a level our community can't sustain."

Ziemann said he checked administrative salaries and made the observation that, "No one in the top echelon has not received anything lower than a 5 to 10 per cent increase in the past two years."

"I think there is a certain amount of liberalism here we can't sustain—some hikes have been higher than increases given to higher people in industry," Ziemann said.

Salary Studies

School Commissioner John A. Schneider said the board made extensive studies of administrative salaries, checking them against other school systems throughout the country, and indicated increases were justified and "in line."

"It is necessary to adjust salaries every year to meet competition," said Commissioner Roy Whitney.

Ald. Stoegebauer observed "Some salaries seem to be increased every year and are probably out of line when compared with other professional categories."

However, Kurtz defended the board's overall salary policy, declaring, "Our salary schedule is not higher than any in our area and is lower in some instances."

Less Than Others

"The beginning salary ($4,750) is less than some of the others in our conference," Kurtz said.

"We feel salaries and the total costs for operating the schools next year are not excessive," Kurtz added.

Kurtz said he felt bus transportation expense could be decreased after next year.

After three nights of hearings, adding up to 12 hours of deliberations, the finance committee has cut $111,000 from $9,638,853, total 1964 requests of all city departments, boards and commissions.

In addition, the city is faced with capital outlays of at least $2.7 million next year, including $1.8 million for a new elementary school.

No city employee salary increases have been included in the budget to date.

Another round of hearings on budgets of the city clerk, department of public works and plan commission will be held tonight.

Winnebago Gives Judges Pay Raises

OSHKOSH — Salary increases of $1,500 each were given to Judges Herbert J. Mueller and James Sitter by the Winnebago County Board this morning to bring them up to the same salary which Judge James Sarres will get as of Jan. 1.

This will make the salaries of all three county judges $13,500 per year. The salary of county judges was raised by the legislature this year to $13,500 with the increase taking effect upon the beginning of the judge's new term. This is Jan. 1 for Judge Sarres but not until Jan. 1, 1964, for Judges Mueller and Sitter.

The salary increase was granted though by a sharply divided vote, 30 to 21, which was taken without any argument. The judges had asked $15,000 be set as their salary but the judiciary committee and personnel committee recommended the $13,500 salary.

Radio dispatchers in the county sheriff's department were raised to the same salary classification as the county police so that these employees may be interchanged if the need should arise.

The board also voted to grant a $100 clothing allowance to all county uniformed police and to raise the salary of the lieutenant-parole officer, Kenneth Heine, to $6,000 per year to make it equal to that given the lieutenant-investigator last fall.

Autumn Brings New Wisconsin Honey Crop With Recipes to Match the Season

The flavors of Honey and carrots merge to make a memorable taste impression in Carrot Pancakes with Honey Butter. These pancakes served with sizzling sausages or Canadian bacon make a delicious supper with little effort involved.

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Bright October brings more than the harvest of fruits and vegetables to American tables . . . it's the month for honey, too, that delicious, natural sweet gathered from flowers of field and garden. Its golden goodness long has been well welcomed as a spread, but honey also lends its sweetness to many dishes.

Many people don't know it, but honey is one of Wisconsin's finest crops with numerous producers located right in the Fox River Valley area. More than 18 million pounds of honey were produced in Wisconsin in 1963 and the latest report of the Wisconsin State Beekeepers Association, which held its convention in Fond du Lac last week, shows that the state has moved up from fourth to third place in honey production in the United States.

That's quite a record and one to point to with pride. That's the way we feel about this collection of recipes from the American Honey Institute in Madison. They all are new . . . tested recipes created for using golden honey from the recent harvest.

Once tried, they'll become a part of your private collection of favorite recipes and they should . . . they represent one of the best of

A Few Minutes of mixing and a few hours of refrigeration are all that's required to make this pleasing dessert, delicious Honey Cheese Refrigerator Cake. Fresh, creamy soft cheese and honey are blended with packaged lemon pudding to make the smooth textured cake. The crust is made with crushed honey graham and butter while toasted coconut topping gives the cake a delightful crunchiness.

Honey Bait Bread makes mouths water while it's baking, but it also has an added lure in its delicate soft texture with bits of raisin peeking from each slice. A wonderful choice for dinner or luncheon menus, this bread also makes a nutritious lunch box food . . . if there's any of it left, of course, after baking.

Contest Recipes Of Honey Queens

A Honey Coffee Cake recipe helped win the state honey queen title for Miss Carolyn Hahn of Jefferson County last week at the annual convention of the Wisconsin State Beekeepers Association.

One of the highlights of the meeting in Fond du Lac was the food competition that annually plays a big part in the selection of a queen to represent Wisconsin at the national association convention. Each of the girls entered already had been named queens of their respective counties, so each of their competing recipes are prizewinners.

They all are queen's favorites, tried, tested and made several times by each contestant because a title was at stake. So here they are, including the recipes of the county honey queens in the Fox Cities area.

HONEY COFFEE CAKE

(Carolyn Hahn)
(Jefferson County)

- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup honey
- 3 tablespoons melted butter

Honey Topping

Sift together dry ingredients. Beat egg; add milk, honey and melted butter. Stir into dry ingredients; mix lightly, only enough to moisten flour.

HONEY TOPPING

- 1/4 cup butter
  - 1/4 cup sugar
  - 1/4 cup sifted flour
  - 1/4 cup honey
  - 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- Cream butter; add sugar, flour and honey, mixing thoroughly. Cover coffee cake; sprinkle topping with nutmeats.

HONEY BARS

- (Ione Tubbs, Seymour)
- 1 cup honey
- 3 eggs
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 1/3 cups flour
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- 1 pound chopped dates

If It's Popularity you're after, bake Honey Chocolate Raisin Drops and then tuck the recipe away in a safe but readily accessible place. These are really good and the cookies go exceptionally well with a mug of Honey Orange Eggnog.

- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Powdered sugar

Delightful Lunch

Ever add drained tuna to a cheese sauce? Serve the combination over toasted frankfurter buns. Add a green salad and you'll have a pleasant and easily prepared lunch. The cheese sauce can be made from condensed cheddar cheese soup.

Wisconsin regional foods. CARROT PANCAKES WITH HONEY BUTTER

1 egg
1 cup milk
6 tablespoons buttermilk
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 cup all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup grated carrots
Honey Butter
Beat egg in medium mixing bowl; add milk, buttermilk and melted butter. Sift together flour, salt, soda, baking powder and sugar; add to liquid ingredients. Beat until large lumps disappear. Fold in grated carrots. Spoon onto hot griddle. Turn when pancakes become honey, pudding mix, water, puffy and full of bubbles. Brown eggs, gelatin and lemon rind in on other side. Serve immediately. Saucepan Cook, stirring, con- ly with Honey Butter. Recipe makes about 15 medium pan- cakes.

HONEY BUTTER

½ cup butter

½ cup honey
Let butter stand at room tem- perature until softened. Gradu- ally add honey, beating well while doing it.

HONEY CHEESE REFRIGERATOR CAKE

¼ cup honey
1 pkg. lemon pudding mix (4-ounce pkg.)
2 cups water
2 eggs, beaten
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1 cup honey graham crack- er crumbs
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup toasted coconut
Allow cream cheese to soften. Drop from teaspoon on greas- ed baking sheets about one and one-half inches apart. Bake in preheated, 325 - degree oven about 20 minutes. Remove to wire racks to cool. Store after cookies are cooled. Recipe makes about six dozen two-inch cookies.
HONEY ORANGE EGGNOG
1 egg, separated
2 tablespoons honey
1 cup orange juice
Beat egg white until stiff. Beat egg yolk until light, then beat in honey and orange juice. Fold in beaten egg white. This recipe may be changed to use one cup milk instead of orange juice. Add dash of cinnamon or cinnamon stick.
HONEY BAIT BREAD
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup rolled oats
½ cup raisins
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup melted shortening
1 cup honey
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Sift together flour, soda and salt in large bowl. Stir in oats and raisins. Add remaining in- gredients, stirring only until blended. Pour into greased, waxed-paper - lined loaf pan. Bake in preheated, 325-degree oven until golden brown, about one hour, 15 minutes. Cool a few minutes, then remove from pan. For ease in slicing, store overnight before using.

smooth. Allow to stand at room temperature.

Combine cracker crumbs and butter, mixing well. Press into eight - inch spring form pan, spreading crumbs evenly on bot- tom of pan. Pour filling over this crust. Chill three to four hours. Sprinkle top with toasted coconut just before serving. Re- cipe makes eight to 10 servings.

HONEY CHOCOLATE RAISIN DROPS

1 cup shortening
1½ cups honey
2 eggs, well beaten
2 ounces unsweetened choco- late, melted
1½ cups uncooked quick-cook- ing oats
2½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1½ cups raisins
½ cup chopped nuts (optional)
Cream shortening and honey together thoroughly. Beat in eggs until well blended. Stir in melted chocolate and oats. Re- sift flour with baking powder, salt, soda and cinnamon. Add to honey mixture; stir until well blended. Add raisins (either dark or golden raisins may be used) and nuts.

Drop from teaspoon on greas- ed baking sheets about one and one-half inches apart. Bake in preheated, 325 - degree oven about 20 minutes. Remove to wire racks to cool. Store after cookies are cooled. Recipe makes about six dozen two-inch cookies.

Ladylike Phantoms Haunt Octagon in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Men claim superiority in many areas of endeavor, but when it comes to haunting they can't hold a candle to women.

For every male ghost — who usually can think of nothing more imaginative to do than clomp up and down stairs or clank chains — there are dozens of fascinating female phantoms with spell-binding bags of tricks.

Mansion Served President

One of these alluring apparitions is a wraith in residence at The Octagon historic brick house that served as a temporary Executive Mansion for President James Madison and his incomparable Dolly when the British burned the White House during the War of 1812.

The Octagon — which is really a hexagon broken by a tower in front — was built 1798-1800 by Col. John Tayloe of Mount Airy, Va., as a townhouse in the new national capital at the corner of New York Avenue and 18th Street. For years the stately Georgian home was a center of Washington's social life.

Historic Landmark

Today it's a Registered National Historic Landmark open to the public and national headquarters since 1900 of The American Institute of Architects.

Mrs. Velma May, The Octagon's hostess, says she doesn't believe in the supernatural and she certainly has never seen any of the feminine ghosts whose stories have made the old mansion Washington's favorite haunted house.

Chandelier Swings

"But I have seen that chandelier," she says, pointing to a big glass affair in the stairwell that start to sway as if a hand had done it. There was no wind. It would stop after awhile.

"The former caretaker, who lived here 33 years on the top floor said he got used to not meeting people on the stairs after he heard them coming. And he saw things."

Groans Audible

When he opens up early in the morning, Robert Bradley, the gardener, occasionally hears he says "groans of distress that follow you up the stairs. Once they were so loud I thought someone was playing a trick on me. And I'm not a superstitious man."

The Octagon's most famous ghost is one of the young women of the Tayloe family. Accounts vary whether it is Betty, at the spot the girl's body supposedly hit. It hadn't been that way when the house was closed the night before.

Ghost of Slave Girl

Another ghost, this one of a murdered slave girl is supposed to wander screaming through the house and grounds.

A girl who committed suicide — presumably not the Tayloe relative — of course over a love affair, is also part of the legend.

Wires Haunted

For years the bellwires were inexplicably haunted. All the bells would ring at a certain hour every night.

Once, so a story goes, a skeptic leaped up and caught hold of the wires as they started to ring. He was lifted off the floor — but the ringing kept on.

To keep superstitious servants, the house was entirely rewired — and this apparently did the trick.

Dolly Madison's Ghost

There's even a story that Dolly Madison herself holds phantom court at The Octagon. She was Washington society's most sparkling hostess, and surely she left her imprint on the house where she lived and entertained for more than a year.

In the back garden she reportedly kept a late tryst with Aaron Burr who climbed the 10-foot wall to bid her farewell before leaving for Europe to escape his political enemies. She always had a weakness for the dashing Burr, once her suitor, although she sensibly had married the more solid — and stolid — Madison.

Some romantics say even the Burr spirit frequents the Octagon but nobody presses the point.

When it comes to ghosts, the nation's capital yields to no man in the quantity and quality of its local product. Lincoln haunts the White House, the shade of John Quincy Adams under the Capitol's Rotunda, five old houses sport at least one specter. Here's a Halloween tale of "The Octagon" often called Washington's favorite haunted house.

love for a British officer. Her shadow may be seen reflected on the wall by the flickering light of the candle she carries up the winding stairs.

She eloped against her family's wishes and returned to beg forgiveness. She was met with such rage she flung herself over the balustrade of the top landing. (In one variation her infuriated brother pushed her.) In another the terrified girl was fleeing her father's wild anger when she stepped on a kitten fell and broke her neck.) Her unhappy spirit, swathed in white draperies, floats up and down stairs.

Noticed on Anniversary

Legend has it that on certain days, particularly the anniversary of the tragic affair, no one may cross the hall at the foot of the stairway where the body landed without unconsciously going around an unseen object lying there.

Mrs. May, the hostess, doesn't know about that, but she volunteers that not long ago the maintenance man, first in that morning, found the rug turned back.

Mrs. W. J. King Couple to Reside in New York

KAUKAUNA — Miss Lucille Schmidt became the bride of William J. King, Fairlawn, N.J., at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Francis Catholic Church, Holmdel. The Rev. Edward Kilsdonk performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Florence Schmidt, route 3, Kaukauna. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoban, Fairlawn, are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride's sister, Mrs. James Hurst, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Alice Eiting and Miss Joan Williams, Boston, Mass.

Acting as best man was the bride's brother, Bernard Schmidt. Roy Bies, a cousin of the bride, and Gerald Schmidt, the bride's brother, were groomsmen. Ushering duties were fulfilled by Roger Green, a cousin of the bride, and Robert Becker, Muskegan, Mich.

Mrs. Campbell At Ceremony In New York

Mrs. William S. Campbell, Neenah, participated in the 77th birthday party for the Statue of Liberty Monday on Liberty Island, New York City. The program was given by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in cooperation with the National Park Service of the United States Department of Interior.

A 1963 Statue of Liberty plaque was presented by Mrs. Campbell, national president of the Auxiliary, to Dr. Thomas Pitkin, supervising historian of the New York Area, National Park Service.

The First United States Army Band, directed by Chief Warrant Officer, Henry C. Hunt, performed at the event. Edward Papanicolaou, VFW representative to the United Nations, acted as master of ceremonies. The address was given by the honorable Horacio J. Brillantes, minister of the Philippine mission to the U.S., Lt. Col. Matthew W. Blair, deputy First Army Chaplain, gave the invocation and the benediction.

Tender Product

The distinguishing characteristic of cake flour is that it is made from soft wheat and so produces a particularly tender baked product.

German Measles Now May Save Baby Later

German measles parties for girls are not a fad. It's all in the interest of our new age of enlightenment to produce healthy babies, says Dr. Virginia Apgar of Tenafly, N. J., specialist in the problems of newborn infants.

"Junior and senior high school students should intentionally expose themselves to German measles and many are doing it. This year the virus in pregnant women may result in a 50 per cent loss in the first month of pregnancy or in abnormal babies," she points out.

Dr. Apgar is creator of the Apgar Score, a way of determining within one minute after birth whether a baby is normal. Heart rate, muscle tone, respiration and color of the infant contribute to the diagnosis. Its purpose is to determine whether any damage has occurred in the brain before or during birth.

"We are approaching the day when any woman can produce a normal, healthy baby," says Dr. Apgar, head of the Division of Congenital Malformations for the National Foundation, which sponsors research projects on birth defects and arthritis.

Don't Take for Granted
"Every avenue is being explored to overcome birth defects. We know many of the viruses, drugs, chemicals and other causes but there still is work to be done in educating women in this respect."

One of the peak incidents of death in our country occurs during the period from the 36th week of pregnancy to the 4th week of life of the infant.

"We must face up to the fact that pregnancy and birth are not to be taken for granted. A girl should pick her spouse for health as well as love," Dr. Apgar says.

"The two should make premarital tests — writing down family histories of brothers, sisters, fathers, mothers. They may find they have a pretty good record. But on the other hand, if they are cousins, they may risk giving an offspring a double dose of something. They should be aware of each other's inheritance. If there is a mongoloid baby in the background, then they shouldn't be surprised if they have one."

Marry Right Man
Every child in New York Hospital now has a pedigree chart to show what things are going on in the family, another step in establishing health records for individuals, she says.

"If a young married person finds a brother or sister has some mental deficiency, their child can be tested by one prick on the heel, the blood tested and the child treated so that he can grow up to be a bright, young man," she says.

Medical science knows many ways you can have a normal, healthy baby, she says, such as:

Marry the right man (if there is something in the background, you can adopt children.)

Go to a German measles party, if you've never had the virus. Although vaccines have been made, they aren't quite ready.

Avoid drugs except those prescribed by your doctor for a serious complication. There is a level at which even aspirin is under suspicion. Some doctors suspect caffeine. Some nose drops contain a drug for shrinking membranes that may be harmful.

Avoid X-ray of the pelvic region during a period that could constitute the first ten days of pregnancy. Any cause to suspect pregnancy should be related to a doctor or radiologist in order to avoid X-ray at the wrong time.

Smoking Has Effect
Common sense must guide women during the childrearing period, Dr. Apgar points out, and especially during the first three months of pregnancy, the most important time. Overdoses of vitamins may be as harmful as nutritional deficiencies. Hyper-vitaminosis has been associated with birth defects.

Smoking has been found to have a direct effect on the size of babies. The more a woman smokes, the smaller the baby, Dr. Apgar says.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Quick-Dry, Not Drip-Dry

A lovely writes: I am considering the purchase of a home hairdryer. But first, I would like to know if constant use would aggravate the already dry condition of my hair. I set my hair several times a week.

The Answer: There is every evidence that quick drying a set is far better for the hair than leaving it in a sodden mass for hours. A girl wouldn't do that to her nylons, and her hair is much more precious.

Too, left for long periods, in the hair, rollers and pins cause harmful strain on both the scalp and strands. That a headful of hardware is also a strain on the eyes of the beholder — a horror committed in the name of beauty—should clinch the argument in favor of quick drying.

Convenience Kitchen Has Chinese Air

Today's 'round-the-world' cookery inspires 'round-the-world' kitchens. Tempting fragrances of Oriental culinary triumphs are almost sea-able in this one, with its Chinese spicing of metal turquoise cabinets—likening them to lacquer chests—and the wash and dry. The teak is decorative plum branch painting orative enrichment for the kitchen.

And, and constructs dropped ceilings to recess efficient lighting. Bamboo trims and creates Oriental garden atmosphere, but deep brown flooring, which looks so like oiled clay tiles typical of old Chinese homes, is new vinyl tile. And the cabinets' Oriental splendor interferes not at all with installations of a stainless steel sink, an under-counter dishwasher in matching turquoise, and that most practical of luxuries, an eye-level double oven to roast meat and ready rolls at the same time.

Easy to Reach
An idea-full cooking table is a busy island operating from all sides. Set into it is a brushed chrome-finished cook top with a vent hood above to manage smoke as well as cooking odor removal for a portable grill or hibachi. One table top side is a broad wooden chopping block. The kitchen has three parts, open to each other but ingeniously separating photographed headquarters, a serving center and a laundry. The compact serving center, out of view at right, has its own range, refrigerator, sink and storage. The laundry is at left, beguiling with color and decoration, and repeating the good looks of teak, but skipping no top convenience for washing, drying, sorting and storage. The kitchen was a trendmaker feature of the recent Decoration & Design Show in New York.

Oriental Influences predominate in this kitchen, one of the trendmaker features shown at the recent Decoration and Design Show in New York. Combined with teak, bamboo and Chinese style roller shades are super appliances that make American kitchens so labor saving and efficient. The sink is stainless steel and an island cooking table is accessible from all sides.

Altar Society Cites Training Course Heads

KAUKAUNA — The Christian Mothers Altar Society of St. Mary Catholic Church gave special recognition to Miss Cecil Hoolihan and Mrs. Gen Anderson at the Oct. 22 meeting. The women were co-chairmen of a leadership training course. Instructors for the course were Gilbert Anderson, Dennis Kral, James Lang and Neil McCarty. Reports on the Diocesan Convention in Green Bay were given by Mrs. Donald Beno and Mrs. Peter Krautramer. A movie, "Visit To The Vatican Council," was shown. A corporate communion is planned at the 7 a. m. mass Sunday. Breakfast will be served for the women by the Holy Name Society. Sister Cecelia Marie will direct the boys' choir at a program for the group. Mrs. John Feldkamp is chairman of a bake sale to be held Friday afternoon and Saturday in the church basement. Mrs. Norman Meiner and Mrs. Reed Mullen were program chairmen.

Liqueur Flavoring

Any orange liqueur in the house? It's delightful used as the moistening and flavoring agent in a confectioners sugar frosting for a white or chocolate cake.

Contest for Overseas Americans

One of the great events of the bridge year is the annual competition conducted by the U.S. State Department and the U.S. Information Agency through their Recreation Agency. The same hands are played all over the world by hundreds of overseas Americans, much to their edification.

North-South earned part of their credit for reaching a contract of six hearts or six notrump. To earn the rest of their credit, they had to make the slam contract. The key play occurs in the heart suit.

The better contract is six notrump since South can make this if he gets three heart tricks. South can do this if West has all of the missing hearts, but he is unlikely to make six hearts if he runs into so fearful a break.

Finesse Loses
Most declarers lost their slam by trying a finesse with the queen of hearts. This lost to the king, and West subsequently got a trick with the jack or 10 of hearts.

The correct play is to try a deep finesse in starting the hearts. South wins the first trick with the jack of spades and leads a heart to finesse with dummy's six.

As the cards lie, this deep finesse is enough to drive out the king. South has no other problem.

If the deep finesse lost to the 10 or jack, South would get back to his hand with a club or spade to lead another heart. This time declarer would finesse with dummy's queen. If West had the king of hearts the delayed finesse would be just as useful as an immediate finesse.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S K J 5; H 7 4 2; D A 5 3 2; C A Q 7. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three diamonds or two clubs. You cannot bid two notrump because you have no stopper in the unbid hearts. Three diamonds is best if your partnership treats this as completely forcing. If not, you must improve a bid, such as two clubs.

Mothers' Society Plans Breakfast
St. Joseph Christian Mothers' Society will have a corporate communion at the 8 a.m. mass Sunday. A breakfast will be served in the cafeteria.

The committee is composed of Mrs. John Losseylong, Mrs. Harold Rietzner Jr. and Mrs. Ruth Warnke.

Members of the Neenah-Menasha Practical Nurses Alumnae have given a set of hand tools to the Outagamie County Hospital for a new workshop for patients. The tools will enable men to keep up old handiwork skills, build small objects and make minor repairs. The workshop will be directed by Mrs. Michael Murchie, Murchie, Appleton, occupation therapist, and Robert Locklin, Kimberly, her assistant. Above, at the presentation, are Mr. Locklin, Mrs. Paul Quella, Menasha, and Mrs. George Edict, Appleton, a licensed Practical Nurse. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Promises Exchanged Saturday

MENASHA — Miss Judith Arlene Gould, 315½ Naymut St., became the bride of John Joseph DeCoster at 10 a.m. Saturday in a double ring ceremony at St. Mary Catholic Church. The Rev. Frank Melchior officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Valeria Gould, route 1, Larsen. Mr. DeCoster's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Sanders, 653 Elizabeth St. Miss Gould was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Lester Johnson, Larsen.

Miss Peggy Gould, Larsen, a sister of the bride, and James Knabenbauer served as honor attendants. Eugene Lopas and Gerald Maynard, Combined Locks, shared ushering duties.

A reception took place at Club Terrace, Appleton.
The bride is employed at Jersey Knitting Co., Neenah. Mr. DeCoster is employed at E & R Construction Co., Neenah. The couple will live at 315½ Naymut St.

Today's Etiquette

INAPPROPRIATE GIFT

Dear Louise: My 19-year-old daughter has been going steady with a very nice young man for the past six months. They are quite serious, but have agreed to wait until next summer until the boy finishes college before any official announcement is made. The boy wants to give my daughter a Cashmere sweater trimmed with a fox collar. My daughter has discussed this with me and claims this is 1963 and that I'm old fashioned to object to such a gift. She reads your column and thinks that you are liberal and sensible. She would like your views and so would I.

Louise Davis Answers:
Because the engagement and wedding are in the distant future, I throw in my objections too. Giving wearing apparel is inappropriate and in poor taste at this premature stage. Since this understanding is a forerunner of an engagement, I suggest that the boy give your daughter a keepsake such as a bracelet, necklace, earrings or all three as a set, providing it doesn't cost a young fortune. Assuming that the couple will marry some day, your daughter would then have something that she can cherish as her husband's first gift. The costly fox-collared sweater will be out-moded eventually and will wear out. This is a good

Newspaper Says World Cartel Rigs Drug Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said it has turned over to the behind closed doors for some "secret documents of a world cartel that rigs drug prices who have reviewed the documents are convinced that the price structure of certain drugs widely marketed in the U.S. is based on international agreements."

Man Burning Leaves Assessed $5 Fine

KAUKAUNA — Harold P. Feller, 189 W. Wisconsin Ave., pleaded guilty to a charge of burning leaves during restricted hours and was fined $5 and costs by Oscar T. Jahns, municipal judge.

The newspaper said it obtained the price structure of certain drugs widely marketed in the U.S. is based on international agreements."

Foor Drivers Are Made Into Assigned Risks

MADISON — More Wisconsin drivers are being introduced in a financially painful way to the consequences of poor driving records in their own experience or through the doubtful risk classifications of their occupations.

There are now more than 25,000 Wisconsin motor vehicle operators who are insured through the assigned risk plan of the automobile insurance industry, which means that they are unable to buy insurance coverage at ordinary rates, through ordinary methods, and from ordinary underwriters.

Such policy holders are required to pay substantially higher rates for their contracts. In some instances two or three times the dollar amount charged for a similar contract outside the assigned risk pool.

Required by Law
All Wisconsin insurance companies in the auto field are required by law to be members of the assigned risk plan, which is managed cooperatively through a committee representing five of the companies.

The driver who has a "clean record," who may be a youthful applicant in a high risk district, as an example, is automatically charged 125 per cent of the prevailing rate for coverage. About half of the contracts now represented in the pool are in that category.

Others are assigned demerits on the basis of their individual records, which are translated into surcharges on the base rates.

Even with such high rates, the firms have been complaining about high loss ratios. Last fall the governing committee of the pool, with the approval of the state insurance department, raised rates an average of 41 per cent. Other rate adjustments have been proposed and are now being considered.

Dividend Declared
EVANSTON, Ill. — Packaging Corporation of America has declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents per common share to stockholders of record Dec. 10, 1963, payable Jan. 3.

Oscar Schirm Booms 9 Straight Strikes, Winds Up With 275

Blohm Records
623 Series in Fraternal League

Oscar Schirm came within three strikes of a perfect 300 game, but left four pins standing on a thin 10th-frame hit and had to settle for a booming 275 622 series. Frans Larsen had a count in the Fraternal League 564 and Bill Nowell added a 556, at Hahn's Lanes Wednesday.

Schirm smacked nine consecutive strikes before the fateful 10th when a ball that "just didn't take enough" came up short and left four pins standing. Oscar then cleaned up for a spare and picked up nine pins on his last ball.

The singleton was the second best rolled on Appleton Lanes this season. Ted Heinritz had a 278 earlier.

Schirm has been bowling about 25 years, but said this is only the "sixth or seventh" time he has been able to participate in the league this season. He has had one game higher than the 275, that was a 279 he rolled last year. Schirm averages between the 160-179 mark. He had a 621 series last night.

Al Blohm took a share of individual honors with a 623 series that included a 252 game. Other honor scores included Bill Geshall, 605; Dick Fellner, 570; Bill Wenzel, 237 and 562; Don Tremel, 560; Herb Checkal, 552 and Bill Schultz, 550.

Don Bartelt swept honors in on a thin 10th-frame hit and the Elks Western League with a had to settle for a booming 275 622 series. Frans Larsen had a count in the Fraternal League 564 and Bill Nowell added a 556, at Hahn's Lanes Wednesday.

Schirm smacked nine consecutive strikes before the fateful 10th when a ball that "just didn't take enough" came up short and left four pins standing. Oscar then cleaned up for a spare and picked up nine pins on his last ball.

The singleton was the second best rolled on Appleton Lanes this season. Ted Heinritz had a 278 earlier.

Schirm has been bowling about 25 years, but said this is only the "sixth or seventh" time he has been able to participate in the league this season. He has had one game higher than the 275, that was a 279 he rolled last year. Schirm averages between the 160-179 mark. He had a 621 series last night.

Schmitz is described by his coaches as the steady unspectacular type, who is always available and who always gives a full effort. They say he is especially swift and tough against pass plays over the middle.

Entered Wisconsin

After graduating from New Holstein High School in 1956, Bob entered the University of Wisconsin and played freshman ball there before transferring to Montana State College at Bozeman, Montana.

It was at Montana State that he began making long strides toward a pro career. He began gaining the weight, growing and developing his body for the rugged play.

Several scouts from pro clubs showed an interest in him as he played the final year of college eligibility. There was no chance for Bob to make any real recognition due to the fact that Montana State was not a member of a conference.

"I actually played only two full years," Bob says. "I broke my hand early in my sophomore year and was out for the season."

He went on to play in the All-American Bowl (Major colleges vs. small colleges) at Tucson, Ariz. after his senior season and drew further attention of professional scouts, especially those of the San Francisco 49ers and Green Bay Packers.

"They showed the most interest in me," comments Schmitz, "and it really surprised me to be selected by the Steelers." The Steelers selected him in the 14th round of the 1961 draft.

Jack Asmus Hits 657 In Valley Classic Loop

NEENAH — George Stoehr powered a 264 game and Jack Asmus notched a 657 series to divide the spoils in the Fox Valley Classic League at Lakewood Lanes Wednesday night. Asmus opened with a 227 solo.

Gene Van Gorp fired 623, Robert Eggert 619, Joe Spilski 614, Evan "Sam" Handy 227-610, "Hub" Heilsberg 238-612, Mike Stepanski 230-603 and Syl Stern 600.

Other high totals include "Spike" Versteegen 598, Roy Ginnow 595, Earl Mentzel 593, "Mac" McKinnon 592, Armond Ott 245-587, Willie Karnopp 586, Harv Pies 584, Ed Muth 583, Hilly Koslowski 580, Pete Kowalski 576, Ed Meyer, Robert Murray and Lawrence Malouf 575, John Danielson 574, "Moe" Coe-

State Amateur Tourney Set for Madison Course

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The 1964 state amateur golf tournament will be held at Madison's Black Hawk Country club July 27-Aug. 1, the Wisconsin State Golf Association decided at its annual meeting Wednesday.

Maple Bluff Country Club of Madison was named the alternate course for the two day 36-hole qualifying competition. R. S. Crichton of Milwaukee was re-elected WSGA president. Others re-elected were S. Walter Turner, Oconomowoc, secretary-treasurer, and Ed Walsh and Paul Rosenblatt, both of Milwaukee, vice presidents.

Schmitz was asked, "I made up my mind I was going to have to make it," he shot back displaying the determination the coaches spoke of.

Schmitz reports that he didn't play much in that first training season, but came back as a member of the team and now has put in two full years.

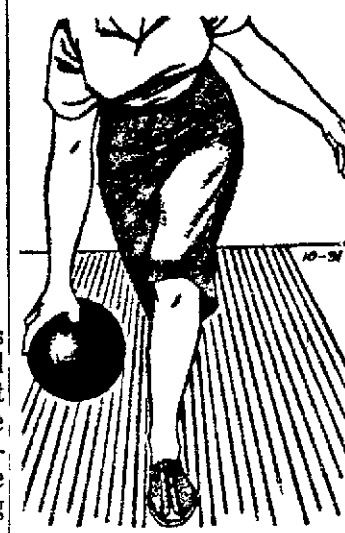

"I've played once against the Packers," Bob quickly reminded, "We met them in Miami last August."

It was apparent that at least one Steeler—for sure—was going to be "up" for Sunday's game. You could tell it as he spoke of his teammates. "Ed Brown and Buddy Dial are having great years," he stated enthusiastically.

Bowling Tips BY DON CARTER AND MARION LADEWIG

Hook Mild, Not Wild

The bowler in the illustration is about to throw a hook, assuming she will maintain this hand position throughout the release. Because the thumb is pointed only slightly to the left

(from her viewpoint), the hook is likely to be a gentle one. This is good.

It is the position of the hand at release, not any last-second snapping of the hand or fingers, that produces a hook. If the thumb is turned to the left, this automatically puts the fingers on the right side of the ball and causes the hooking motion.

26 Harrier Teams Enter State Meet

HARTFORD (AP)—Two defending champions will be among the 26 teams which will compete for three Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association cross country championships here Saturday.

Whitefish Bay and Janesville will defend their medium and large school titles, respectively. Waupaca, the 1962 champion in the small school field, failed to qualify for the finals.

In addition to the teams, 26 runners from 24 schools qualified as individuals.

Qualifying teams: Large schools — Antigo, Janesville, Madison West, Milwaukee Bay View, Milwaukee Marshall, Milwaukee Washington, Racine Park, Racine Horlick, Wausau, Medium — Brookfield Central, Kaukauna, Monona Grove, Neenah, Oconomowoc, Rhinelander, Wauwatosa West, West Bend, Whitefish Bay, Small—Barron, Berlin, Burlington, Chetek, Clintonville, Iowa-Grant, Milwaukee Lincoln, Sun Prairie.

Stockbridge Wins Finale

Schoen Suffers Leg Fracture In 45-20 Victory

CHILTON — The Stockbridge High School Indians closed their first grid season in school history by thumping Chilton freshman - sophomore unit, 45-20, here Tuesday night.

The victory gave the Bud Thompson coached Indians a record of 3-1.

Indian star Tom Schoen suffered a broken leg midway in the second period. Before the injury Schoen carried seven times for 127 yards, scored two touchdowns from scrimmage and another after running 60 yards with an intercepted pass.

Stockbridge's Gene Comerford scored from three yards out early in the game. The next Indian score came on Schoen's interception.

Dave Schaefer put Chilton on the board with a 47-yard scoring run in the first period.

Then came two more Schoen TDs, on runs of 25 and 63 yards making the score 26-7 before the young Tigers pushed over another marker just before the half. It came on a 35-yard pass from John Hauser to Jim Pfeiffer.

Comerford ended a 43-yard drive with a 5-yard run to make it 32-13. A fumble recovery and Bob Mayer's 21-yard scoring dash boosted the Indian margin. Comerford picked off a Tiger pass and ran it back 29 for a touchdown to cap the scoring for Stockbridge.

Schaefer got the final Tiger score on a 12-yard run seconds before the final gun.

Buddy Dial, of Steelers, Eyes Receiving Title

Former Rice Star Ranks Second to Bobby Joe Conrad

BY LOU PRATO

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pass catching whiz Buddy Dial of the Pittsburgh Steelers, off to the best start of his career, would like nothing better than to grab the National Football League pass receiving crown this season—well almost nothing.

"Dadgum if ah wouldn't like to win that 'title,'" Dial mused in his cheerful Texas drawl. "But ah also want to play on a championship team and we have the chance this year."

"Ah don't know which one I want more," he added, breaking into his characteristic sheepish grin. "Maybe ah can have both."

Maybe. But not likely. He has a better chance at the receiving honor than the Steelers have at the NFL championship.

In Contention

The Steelers currently are fourth in the Eastern Division 1½ games behind front-running Cleveland. They're still in contention but with games left with the league's four powers — Green Bay, Cleveland, Chicago and New York — the odds against staying there are high.

But Dial, the former Rice All-America, is in an excellent position to capture the first pass receiving title in his sensational five-year NFL career.

After seven games, Dial, the good-looking ex-choir boy, is second in pass receptions with 36, eight less than St. Louis' Bobby Joe Conrad. But his 751 yards gained is 120 yards better than the next man in that category—fleet Bobby Mitchell of Washington.

Dial, noted for his brilliant faking maneuvers and his deft hands, also is tied with St. Louis' Sonny Randle and Chicago's Mike Ditka with seven touchdown passes. And with 42 points, he's tied for seventh in scoring.

"Oh, would ah like to beat Bobby Joe," Dial said with a tone of enthusiasm as he glanced at the latest receiving statistics. "And Randle and (Tommy) McDonald too."

Best On Steelers

Conrad, Mitchell, Randle, Ditka, McDonald, along with Del Shofner, Ray Derry and the like, have kept Dial from winning the receiving title, though he's been far and away the best receiver on the Steelers.

His most prolific season was 1961 when he caught 53 passes for 1047 yards and 12 touchdowns—the latter two setting club records. But with Ed Brown at quarterback the 1963 Steelers have their foremost passing attack in years and it seems probable that Dial will better his 1961 output.

"If Ed keeps throwin' to me at like he has, ah'll keep catching 'em," Dial said. "Ah'm not in third bragging, ah just know that ah can catch passes."

Now, if the Steelers can only catch the Browns, Giants and Cardinals!

Macs, KAC Enter BABA

Play Slated To Get Under Way Nov. 16

MARION — The Badger Amateur Basketball Association organized for its 18th season at city hall Monday.

Ten teams, including three new members, indicated readiness for play. Eight other teams have until Nov. 6 to join. Play will again be divided into two divisions.

The three new teams are the Menasha Macs, the Kaukauna Athletic Club and White Lake. These teams will compete in the northern division.

Holdover teams include Marion, Bonduel, Birnamwood, Kimberly and Bowler in the northern division; Green Bay Printers, Neenah Hewitt's, Plover and Kimberly Recreation are in the southern division. Membership inquiries have been received by teams from Appleton and Green Bay.

The season will begin Nov. 16. The number of teams will determine the north and south division schedules.

A. N. Brunner, Leopolis, was re-elected president of the association. This will be his 18th term. Emil Beuhrer, Green Bay, was re-elected vice president.

Don Martzke, Shawano, replaces Melvin Lemke as secretary-treasurer. Illness caused Lemke, to resign. He held the office since the BABA's organization.

CLINTONVILLE — Seven members of the Clintonville Senior High School cross country team will compete in the state meet Saturday at Hartford.

Clintonville took second place in the 15-school sectional held at Ripon last Saturday. As in like he has, ah'll keep catching 'em," Dial said. "Ah'm not in third bragging, ah just know that ah can catch passes."

ner, Jim Pegel and Steve Crabb.

Ken Zagzebski and Mark Babbitt are the two seniors who were starters at the beginning of the season but have been lost because of injuries.

Tops on Offense

Xavier has wheeled through 30 victories in succession and ranks well out in front in league offensive statistics. The Hawks have more first downs and rushing yards than any other team and are second to St. John in yards gained passing.

Defensively, Xavier is second best, topped only by Premontre. The Cadets have allowed a total of 574 yards to opponents while Xavier have given up 741.

Against Marinette, the Hawks will be facing a team which has shown vast strides of improvement this season. After splitting their first two games of the season, the Cavaliers won two and tied one before dropping a narrow, 7-0 decision to strong Premontre last week.

Coach Marty Crowe always comes through with the unexpected at Marinette and this makes Coach Gene Clark of Xavier more wary than ever. Crowe is noted for his slick ball handlers in the backfield and the Cavaliers frequently use razzle-dazzle plays with as many as two or three handoffs before a runner takes off with the pigskin.

Protect Second

Premontre will be seeking to protect its second place spot against Lourdes Saturday. The Knights could climb into the first division with a win over the Cadets.

St. John also will be out to protect its sixth place spot. Penning could tie the Dutchmen with a win Saturday. The Chutlers feature the league's top passing attack but are seventh in rushing.

Sandy Koufax Captures NL's MVP Award

Doesn't Think Hurlers Work Enough To be Considered

By BOB MYERS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southpaw Sandy Koufax of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, doesn't think a pitcher works often enough to win a Most Valuable Player award. But just the same he treasured the award today whether he agrees or not.

Racking up another of baseball's most honored salutes—he has the unanimous choice for the Cy Young Trophy recently as the major leagues' finest pitcher—Koufax captured the vote as the MVP in the National League.

The 20-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association voted him the prize.

This one wasn't unanimous, but the handsome, dark-haired Sandy beat out Dick Groat of the St. Louis Cardinals by a commanding 237 points to 190.

The Brooklyn-born Koufax, who lives here now, said, "oh, thank you."

Especially Proud
He added, "I didn't think I was going to win it because I didn't think a pitcher would win. I am especially proud because I believe this is the most important award in baseball."

Perhaps the 28-year-old, 6-foot-2, 200-pound Sandy and others have a point in saying that everyday toilers in the baseball vineyard merit the MVP trophy.

But last year such Dodgers as Maury Wills, Don Drysdale, and Tommy Davis had overwhelming seasons. Sandy and his now famous pitching finger went out of action in mid-season and the Dodgers did not win the pennant, much less a World Series.

This year, Drysdale, Willis and Davis had great years, but not to compare with 1962.

Koufax, conversely, had a wound finger and won 25 games. The Dodgers copped the pennant and whipped the New York Yankees four straight in the World Series, Koufax pitching in the first game and the decisive Yankee-killing fourth game.

Koufax is a genuinely modest guy. But he has no false evaluation of his talent or his worth to the Dodgers. He certainly knows that a 25-game winning pitcher has no price tag and, by the same token, is eligible for a sizable paycheck.

Sandy will not mention dollar figures. Neither does Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodgers' vice president, general manager and the salary negotiator. There never has been any real friction between the two.

Got $42,000
Koufax reportedly got $42,000 in 1962. The figure $55,000 has been mentioned for 1964. If true, this would make Sandy the highest-paid man in Dodger history, exceeding by $10,000 the reported salary of Drysdale in 1963.

Sandy is only the seventh pitcher to be voted the MVP award in 33 years. The last National League pitcher to win it was Brooklyn Dodger Don Newcombe in 1956.

Michigan State to be At Top Physical Form

Team Regains Services of Dave Herman

By BOB VOGES
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—First, Duffy Daugherty was given an appointment assuring him five more years as Michigan State head football coach.

Then his Spartans came from behind to beat Northwestern 15-7 and put MSU in a tie for first in the Big Ten.

Now all Duffy needs is a win over Wisconsin here this week-end to keep his streak going.

Daugherty has no illusions that it will be easy.

Top Strength
"Wisconsin has the most powerful running game, is the strongest on sheer strength and is the biggest team of all those we've met to date," he commented.

Michigan State should be at top physical strength by Saturday. Tackle Dave Herman, who suffered a hip injury against the Wildcats, is expected to be ready to go again.

The Spartans also will have the backing of an enthused homecoming crowd in their home stadium. Ticket sales already have passed the 70,000 mark and a 76,000-plus sellout is possible.

The big man the Badgers will have to watch for is Michigan State's mighty mite, halfback Sherm Lewis.

Lewis, smallest man on the squad at 152 pounds, was a one-man gang against the Wildcats. He scored both the touchdowns, one on a leaping catch of a 29-yard pass into the end zone and the other on an 87-yard run from scrimmage.

Running Team
Lewis picked off a total of four passes, intercepted one and made a spectacular 84-yard punt runback.

The running game is the Spartan bread and butter. While opponents are trying to defend against Lewis, they also are in danger of allowing his running mate at halfback to escape.

Dewey Lincoln mainly blocks for Lewis but also is a sprinter. A third backfield threat is full-back Roger Lopes, a 210-pound power runner from Hawaii.

we took this big V8 and put it in the '64 Chevy II...

WOW!

A pretty potent mixture. The car's the same size. As trim and easy to handle as ever. But now you can have a full-grown V8 in it. A Turbo-Fire 283* that turns out 195 hp.

It's the kind of machine that doesn't take much coaxing to set in motion. (Especially when you consider it has over 60% more power than the Chevy II that won North America's toughest rally last spring—the Shell "4,000.")

And we've also added a choice of a 4-speed Synchro-Mesh transmission* with a floor-mounted shift.

But in case your tastes run somewhat milder, we should point out you have a pick of three other engines as well. The standard 4 (on 100 Series sedans), the standard 6 and a new 155-hp 6*.

And, of course, whatever one you decide on, it's reassuring to know you're getting a car built with the pure and simple integrity of a Chevy II. (Upkeep has been even further reduced this year by such refinements as larger self-adjusting brakes.)

It's a simple matter to spot one of these '64's by styling touches like the new grille design and trim accents. But we'd like to suggest a more memorable way. Drop down to your dealer's and drive one.

Madison Faculty Ensemble Performing Friday Night in New Fine Arts Room

BY JINGO

Fox Cities theatergoers who take advantage of the opportunity of hearing the Baroque and Contemporary Ensemble tomorrow night at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center also will have the opportunity of seeing the new Fine Arts room on the Center campus.

The ensemble is a rather unusual combination of French horn, flute, oboe, piano and tenor singer, a real treat!

The Fine Arts room is something of a real treat also. It has a large stage and a comfortably sized auditorium. The arrangements are ideal for the intimate enjoyment of such attractions as the ensemble.

The Fox Valley Center is an example of inter-county co-operation, a rare occurrence hard to ignore in importance. The prime purpose of the structure of course, is to bring higher education to the youngsters of our area.

However, the University of Wisconsin's philosophy of education is enriched considerably by the efforts at the Center. But there remains the Fine Arts room in its most favorable location and the extremely gifted faculty in its community.

For some time Jingo has been keeping his eye open for an activities center that could serve the entire Fox Cities community as a location for concerted cultural outpouring. With its beautiful orientation and location and favorable atmosphere, the Fox Valley Center seems to be the place Jingo's been looking for.

We'll examine this day dream further later on. Its possibilities are exciting.

Wall Street Termed the 'World's Market Place'

BY SYLVIA PORTER

"Wall Street is not the nation's marketplace," as you claim. It is the world's marketplace," a North European banker told a New York Stock Exchange official a while ago. He explained that, when asked about investments, bankers in his part of Europe think immediately about securities traded in New York, not on their own exchanges.

"The people with wealth in my country invest, if at all, in my country's industries which they can control personally," a visitor from a less developed country added. He explained that since his country can't get far on one horsepower, the government has to undertake the large industrial projects needed.

Wall Street has become "the world's marketplace" to a de-

Come For Money

From all over the world foreign governments and corporations have been coming here to get money and take it home. In 1962 alone, new foreign securities sold in New York totaled a huge $1 billion, on top of $800 million sold in 1961, another $700 million sold in 1960.

This is one reason why the gap between the amount of dollars we send abroad and the amount we earn abroad has remained so big and there has been a threatening drain on our gold reserves.

Capital Markets

This is why the Kennedy administration has proposed an historic first move by the United States toward official restrictions on the outflow of capital of them equipped to handle international financing in a big way.

This is why the administration is urging other countries—particularly in Western Europe—to develop adequate capital markets of their own so they can raise the funds they need at home and can stop tapping our markets on such a vast scale.

Why is the New York market so superior to all others? In addition to tight government controls which limit Europe's markets and the economic disruption caused there by two world wars, there are five special factors favoring us.

First, is the simple fact that we do have a central marketplace in New York which serves the entire United States.

European Setup

There is nothing akin to this in Europe. Instead, as the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. says in a study of Europe's setup, "There are many markets, some local, very few of them equipped to handle international financing" in a big way.

Second is the simple fact that we are one large country with one currency and with an economy capable of creating billions of dollars of savings each year for investment.

There is nothing akin to this in Europe either. Instead, while Europe has been uniting, it still consists of many countries with many different currencies and with economies of varying strength.

Price Stability

Third is the relative price stability and liquidity (ease of buying and selling) of New York's markets.

Illustrating foreign confidence in our markets' stability is the fact that when stock prices on the NYSE broke 7 per cent on May 28-29, 1962, the crash made world headlines. But when prices on the Milan Borsa broke 10 per cent on the one recent day, the news was reported casually in only a few big city newspapers. Underlining the confidence, too, is the fact that no one even considers U.S. government support of securities prices in this country. But when the West German government sold 3.6 million of Volkswagen shares in 1961, it felt it had to guarantee a price near the sale price to prevent political upheaval in case the market went into a tail-spin.

Fourth is the supervision of our markets by government and by self-imposed industry regulations. The regulations are far from perfect but they're the best in the world.

And fifth is the extent to which securities transactions are reported in New York. No other marketplace anywhere has so complete a system for reporting transactions, prices, trading volume.

The day will come when other world market places will be developed. The trend has begun. But for a long time — no matter what barriers we put up — there will be no marketplace even approaching New York's in depth or breadth.

Educator Urges Sabbaticals for Firm Engineers

CHICAGO (AP)—A dean of engineering urged industry today to grant their engineers sabbatical leaves so they can keep abreast of advances in their field.

Dean William L. Everitt of the University of Illinois College of Engineering, said industry must accept the continuing education of engineers throughout their careers as part of the cost of doing business.

Speaking at the National Electronics Conference, he said sabbatical leaves should "not be considered an earned vacation, rather, a period for intellectual regeneration which returns a dividend to the institution as well as individual in renewed intellectual vigor and capability."

He added: "The time has come to recognize that even the individual who receives a Ph.D. or continues into post-doctorate study will not be able to meet the demands of the future without additional formal education as science moves forward at an accelerating pace."

"Engineering career planning in the future must provide for periods of formal intellectual interaction with informed associates or teachers, periods devoted primarily to the learning process and distributed fairly regularly throughout the lifetime of a professionally active engineer."

Aldermen Happy; Board of Appeals Budget Is Zero

The proposed 1964 budget of the Appleton Board of Appeals passed the common council's finance committee with flying colors.

There was a reason. The board came in with "a bare bones" budget, asking for no appropriation.

"We sure could use more of these kinds of budgets," quipped Ald. Alvin E. Tews, committee member. Others nodded in agreement.

In 1962 and 1963 the budgets amounted to $150. However, to date there is still $150 remaining in the board's account.

It has had no expenses yet this year.

Arms Cache Found in Vacant French House

MARTIGUES, France (AP)—Police said they have found four tons of arms in a vacant house near this town in southern France.

The authorities declined to give any details as they began an inventory of the weapons. There was speculation that the arms were stocked by the anti-Gaullist Secret Army Organization, which had opposed Algerian independence. The terrorist group has been largely inactive for the past year.

OUR NEW DRIVE-IN BANK IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS

All right, so you've put up with makeshift drive-in banking facilities at Appleton State for months now. We know, and we're sorry.

But we promised we'd do right by you. And now it's ready.

Not only three handsome, convenient auto teller windows on our Superior Street level, but also weather-protected parking for our customers. Just drive right in, either pull up alongside one of our auto tellers, or park your car and go upstairs to the main bank. Enter from Superior Street, just south of College Avenue.

Either way, it's a new high (we almost said a new low out of respect for the lower level!) in personal comfort while you're banking.

Hours? The best. Nine to five Monday through Thursday, nine to eight in the evening on Friday.

There's some excitement at our drive-in Grand Opening. Come in and find out. Tomorrow!

Algerian-Moroccan Cease-Fire Set for Midnight Friday

BY MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BAMAKO, Mali (AP) — The cease-fire in the Algerian-Moroccan desert war doesn't take effect until midnight Friday and already the two North African neighbors disagree about what they've agreed to.

Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella and King Hassan II of Morocco signed the agreement Wednesday night with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali.

Selassie's Formula Based on a compromise formula drawn up by Selassie, it called for:

1. A cease-fire all along the Moroccan-Algerian border at midnight on the night of Nov. 1-2.
2. Withdrawal of Moroccan forces from territory claimed by Algeria.
3. Demilitarization of all evacuated territory with officers of Ethiopia and Mali supervising.
4. A commission to be set up by the foreign ministers of the Organization of African Unity to determine the responsibility for the recent fighting in the Sahara, examine Morocco's territorial claims and make recommendations.

3 German Miners To Be Rescued Friday

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) — Three German miners, trapped for more than a week in a flooded iron mine, will be brought to the surface Friday morning, a spokesman for the mine management said today. There had been speculation they might get out tonight.

Difficulties in constructing an effective air seal at the top of a rescue shaft delayed the drilling of the last section. There were still 62 feet to be bored through to the gallery where the men have been imprisoned by floodwater since last Thursday.

The three were trapped 259 feet below the surface in a pocket of air compressed by water from a broken dam which claimed the lives of 40 other miners in the pit.

Hints Possible Death Penalty For Men Accused as Agents, Including 2 Canadian Pilots

BY DANIEL HARKER

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Wednesday night his government has captured several agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, including two Canadian pilots, who were sent into Cuba on sabotage missions after Hurricane Flora.

He indicated they may face death sentences. He said several prisoners from a CIA ship called the Rex would appear on television to tell their stories. He did not say when they would appear or give details of their capture but said the Rex was a 150-foot diesel

Aim at Full Religion Ban In Schools

RED WING, Minn. (AP)—The Red Wing school board has voted to take religion out of the public schools by doing away with baccalaureates and changing the character of Christmas and Easter concerts.

The board announced a policy decision, passed by a 5-1 vote. The dissenting member, Wayne Loomis, accused the others of taking a "public-banned" attitude. He added that Red Wing has in no way violated the letter or intent of U.S. Supreme Court decisions, and therefore the policy statement was not necessary.

The board explained its action with this introduction: "Recent decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court have made it clear that it is not the province of a public school to support or discourage religious beliefs or practices."

Schools will not sponsor the traditional baccalaureate services for graduating classes. Easter and Christmas programs won't be called by those names, and music will be chosen on its merits, rather than for any religious connection.

The board also said there will be no dramatization of Bible stories, and free bibles may not be distributed in the schools by the Gideon Society.

Willis Changes Proposal for Chicago Schools

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Board of Education has taken under consideration a proposal by School Supt. Benjamin C. Willis which would allow more than 2,000 elementary school pupils to transfer to other neighborhoods.

The plan was a drastic change for Willis, who until Wednesday had fought proposed changes in the school system's neighborhood school policy. It required that children attend schools in their own neighborhood.

Willis proposed that schools with classes averaging 36 or more pupils could transfer limited numbers of students to schools where classes averaged 30 or fewer. The change would affect 2,096 pupils in grades five through eight in 49 of Chicago's 550 schools.

Last year, seven schools with classes of 40 or more were allowed to transfer pupils to schools with classes of 30 or fewer. Only 34 children applied for transfers, and 28 actually transferred.

2 Fliers Found; 4 Persons Still Lost in Maine

Rescuers Continue Search in Wilds in Wintery Conditions

MILLINOCKET, Maine (AP)

—Two young airmen, lost on a hunting trip, were found today but four other persons still were missing in Maine wildlands whittled by two successive storms.

State police said Charles B. Loring, 21, of Weymouth, Mass., and Larry Baker, 20, of Charles City, Iowa, apparently were in good condition. They disappeared Tuesday while hunting near Van Buren, some 20 miles north of Loring Air Force Base. They were flown by helicopter to the base hospital.

Others Sought Relays of rescue teams pressed searches for two other hunters, and a man and woman lost on mile-high Mt. Katahdin. Their task was hindered by deep snow and continued high winds.

The ground search for a woman and a park ranger in the rugged basin area of mile-high Mt. Katahdin, north of Millinocket, was reinforced today by four experienced mountain climbers from the University of Maine.

Camped on Mountain The missing woman, Mrs. Margaret Ivusic, about 50, of Boston, was camping on the mountain.

Civil Rights Not Partisan Issue, Kennedy States

BY STAN BENJAMIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Kennedy told a Democratic rally Wednesday night in Philadelphia—where racial tensions and the current election campaign are closely interwoven—that civil rights is not a partisan issue.

He spoke at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in support of incumbent Mayor James H. J. Tate, who is seeking election Nov. 5 to a full four-year term. Tate has accused his Republican opponent, James T. McDermott, of "playing for the white vote." McDermott, denying the charge, says Philadelphia's present social climate is "as bad as it can be," because of indecisiveness by Tate.

Kennedy, departing from his prepared text, told some 11,000 gathered in Convention Hall that civil rights "is not a partisan issue or a Republican or Democratic issue. It is a matter of concern to all Americans."

Name Being Submitted To Leaders

BY RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the 1964 Republican platform committee is expected to be Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, who once labeled himself as a "creative conservative."

Laird, 41, now serving his 12th year in the House, was vice chairman of the 1960 platform committee which was headed then by Charles Percy of Chicago, a Republican candidate for the governorship of Illinois.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said at a recent news conference that he expects to announce the chairman of the 1964 GOP platform committee soon.

Leaders Consulted It is expected this announcement will come within a month and Laird will be named to the post. It is understood that his name now is being cleared with Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and other potential candidates for the presidential nomination, and with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

If Laird is named to the job, it is likely that the platform presented to the Republican national convention for approval next year will be far shorter than the 1960 platform which was some 35,000 words in length.

Laird was chairman of the joint House-Senate committee named in 1962 to write a statement of Republican principle and policy which was later unanimously adopted by House and Senate Republican members and by the Republican National Committee.

This statement of GOP philosophy was boiled down to some

Withdrawal Due Before End of Year, General Says

TOKYO (AP)—America's top military commander in South Viet Nam said today at least 1,000 of the 15,000 American troops in Viet Nam will be on their way home within two months.

The statement by Gen. Paul D. Harkins, made in Saigon to a correspondent of the Stars and Stripes, was in line with a White House announcement earlier this month.

The White House said after an inspection trip by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to South Viet Nam that 1,000 American military personnel who have been training Vietnamese troops probably could be withdrawn by the end of this year.

"Victory Months Away"

Harkins told the Stars and Stripes "victory in the sense it would apply to this kind of war" is just months away.

"There won't be any victory parades as such," Harkins said, "because there will be sporadic incidents for a long time to come. But I can safely say that the end of the war is in sight."

Communist guerrillas routed a 120-man company of crack South Vietnamese special forces 140 miles southwest of Saigon Tuesday. The guerrillas killed 20 of the government troops, wounded 30 and were believed to have taken 15 men prisoner, including all three American military advisers with the company.

Many Traffic Tickets Missing in John Doe Quiz in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Numerous traffic tickets were found to be missing when John Doe investigators began examining Wednesday records subpoenaed from the County Sheriff's Dept. Sheriff Michael S. Wolke confirmed that numerous tickets were unaccounted for along with a page that had been cut out of an official daily log.

The traffic ticket records were turned over to the John Doe investigators by Wolke at the request of Circuit Judge John L. Coffey.

The sheriff said he did not know how many tickets were missing. Wolke said that five deputies who resigned during the current investigation admitted that they had destroyed records of fixed tickets.

Judge Coffey, who is presiding over the investigation, said that examination of the records had just begun and he had received no report on what had been found.

U. S. Acts to Deport 3 U. N. Delegates

Russia Expected to Protest, Reject Charge of Espionage

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Three members of the Soviet U.N. delegation accused by the United States of taking part in a spy plot will leave for Moscow Friday night, informed sources said today.

The United States demanded Wednesday that the three be expelled from U.S. territory on grounds they violated diplomatic immunity by helping another Russian and an American electronics engineer in an attempt to gain top secret information from a New Jersey firm engaged in government work.

The Soviet U.N. mission declined to say whether it would

comply with U.S. demand, but the informed sources said the three have booked airline passage for the trip back to Moscow.

The Russian government was expected to protest the expulsion order and reject the espionage charge. A member of the Soviet U.N. delegation claimed the case was a provocation to prevent further improvement of U.S.-Soviet relations.

The three ordered expelled were Gieb A. Pavlov, 39, an attaché; Yuri A. Romashin, 38, third secretary; and Vladimir I. Olenov, 37, identified only as a member of the Soviet delegation.

Briefcase Involved

The Federal Bureau of Investigation linked the three with two persons arrested on spy charges in a railroad station parking lot in Englewood, N.J., Tuesday night—Igor A. Ivanov, 33, of New York City, Russian chauffeur for AMTORG, the Soviet government trade agency, and John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, N.J., control administrator for the International Electric Corp. of Paramus, N.J.

The FBI said Butenko met Ivanov, Pavlov and Romashin in the parking lot and handed them a briefcase containing data on "a highly sensitive Air Force contract" being handled by International Electric.

The corporation is working on a worldwide electronic control system for the Strategic Air Command.

Romashin and Pavlov were arrested with Ivanov and Butenko but were released because of their diplomatic status.

Peonage Charge Filed In South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — An indictment charging a white Florence County farmer with holding a Negro worker in slavery and peonage was returned by a federal grand jury Wednesday.

The two-count indictment alleges that Robert Moultrie Cook, 54, used force and violence on April 27 to make Max Roy McKenzie, a Negro, work against his will.

It also accuses Cook of causing the arrest of McKenzie with the intent of placing the Negro in a condition of peonage.

Find Enriches Teacher

Moldy Bundle on Battlefield at Gettysburg Valued at $54,200

BY BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high school teacher who had to have another look at the Gettysburg battlefield got the glorious news today that "moldy stuff" he scooped up last June is worth $54,200.

"I feel sick. My legs are still shaking. Wow."

And then, "I'm waiting for some confirmation."

Treasury Sets Value That was George C. Rapport's response when told by a newsman that the cache of mutilated currency he turned in to the Secret Service in New York last July has a redemption value that the Treasury sets at $54,200.

Rapport has been waiting since then to hear from the government. The Massapequa Park, N.Y., man said that except for his wife Ruth, he has told nobody else about his find. "It would just be my luck to run into something and get into trouble," said Rapport, 46, a social studies teacher at a Bellmore, N.Y., high school.

Last June 26 the vacationing Rapports and their two children, Eileen, 17, and Jack, 13, visited the Gettysburg battlefield in Pennsylvania.

They toured the Civil War site, but Rapport said: "You know how it is on a tour. Things go so fast you can't appreciate everything. So we went back."

Next day Rapport was walking by the Eternal Light Peace Memorial at the Gettysburg National Military Park. His wife and two children were in their car nearby.

On the ground lay a rotted bundle.

"There was no one around," Rapport recalls. He picked it up—"I had no idea what was inside"—and placed it in the trunk of the car.

Later, he put it in the cellar of his home.

"I couldn't possibly spend any of it. It didn't look like currency. It was too moldy."

"About 10 days later, I didn't know what to do with it, so I reported it to the Secret Service in New York."

He says he was called to Washington by the Secret Service about three weeks ago to tell his story.

W. T. Howell, deputy treasurer of the United States, said the mutilated currency was forwarded to Washington to see how much was redeemable. Howell checked the National Park Service to see if it had any claim under law. He was told it did not.

Howell then notified the Internal Revenue Service since such findings are subject to federal income tax.

Check on Tax Claim

That is where the matter stands now, Howell said, with the Revenue Service checking on whether it has a tax claim. Howell said he could foresee no hitches, that once the Revenue Service is done Rapport will get his money.

Rapport knows how he'll spend the money. "I want to send my kids to school. That's enough."

Speaker Says Dairy Farms Growing Fewer

Convention Told Cooperatives Can Help Situation

Post-Crescent News Service

FOND DU LAC — Milk production in the United States is being concentrated on a relatively small number of farms, Pure Milk Products Cooperative delegates were told here Tuesday night.

Kenneth Wallin, Shawano, Badger Breeders Cooperative general manager and main speaker, said the number of farms with dairy cattle has been reduced from about 2.4 million to 750,000 since World War II.

Concentration has taken place at a slower pace in Wisconsin, he said, with about four out of five farms still classified as dairy farms. The reason, he said, is that there is less opportunity to shift to other types of agricultural production in Wisconsin.

"With the tight price situation, we need better breeding, feeding, management and disease control to show a profit," he said.

Cooperatives, he asserted, can help improve the dairy farmer's situation.

"Cooperatives will prevent the concentration of economic power, foster economic democracy, and foster and protect individual freedom. They provide bargaining power in the market place, and they improve agriculture's public relations," Wallin declared.

He maintained that the present dairy price support program should be continued until something better comes along. Meanwhile, dairy organizations should work out a plan acceptable both to producers and the public.

William C. Eckles, PMPC general manager, viewed talk about selling wheat to Russia as a possible opportunity for the dairy industry.

"I suspect they are trying to avoid a revolution. They've got to have food or the thing will blow out from under them."

"I see this as an occasion to sell butter, powder and other dairy products to satellite countries or to Russia itself."

The manager reported that members of Pure Milk Products sold over 2.1 billions pounds of milk during the year ended Aug. 31. This was cited as a substantial increase over the previous year.

Royal Lidaicoat, Monroe, was elected to the board of directors to replace William Baumann, Middleton, who retired after serving 28 years. Baumann was given a gift and official commendation for his long and diligent service.

Directors re-elected to three-year terms were Hugo Breit, Stratford; Wesley Newhouse, Kaukauna; and Robert Hunter, Junction City.

Paul Affeldt, Sparta, was continued as president at a board meeting following the general meeting. Fred Bromley, White-water, was named to succeed Baumann as first vice president. Others re-elected were Donald Uelmen, Campbellspoint, second vice president, Breit, secretary, and Clarence Hamann, Columbus, treasurer.

Weyauwega To be Host to Music Event

WAUPACA—Weyauwega High School will be host to the annual high school music festivals of the Tri-County Music Association. It was decided at a recent meeting at the Windmill Supper Club.

The association which consists of Wolf River Valley and Central Wisconsin conferences is headed by Samuel Winch, president, instrumental director of the Waupaca schools.

It was decided to have the solo and ensemble events at Weyauwega April 11 and the concert and marching events May 9.

Calumet Fire Departments Sign Mutual Aid Contract

Volunteer Units Can Ask Help From Neighboring Communities

HILBERT — A mutual assistance contract binding all of Calumet County's volunteer fire departments was signed by municipal officials at a special meeting here Tuesday night.

The one-year pact, intended to improve fire protection potential of volunteer units, will go into effect Nov. 1. Signing the contract were mayors, village presidents, town chairmen and municipal clerks of all the municipal units in the county which sponsor a fire department.

Included are the cities of Chilton, Brillion and New Holstein, and the village of Hilbert. The Town of Harrison has two separate departments; the Brillion Town department is headquartered at Forest Junction and the Town of Rantoul department operates as the Potter Fire Department.

The village and Town of Stockbridge jointly sponsor a volunteer unit, and the St. Anna department represents Town of New Holstein. The latter was the only municipality not yet signed into contract but it was expected to join soon. A copy of the plan will be sent to town officials for signatures.

Teacher to Rescue of Hospital and Senora

KAUKAUNA — Officials at the Community Hospital found themselves in a quandary Tuesday morning when they were unable to make a Mexican woman understand what was about to take place. But Mrs. Howard Sprenger, Spanish instructor at Kaukauna High School, came to the rescue.

Hospital authorities praised the helpfulness and generosity of Mrs. Sprenger, declaring her actions one tiny step toward good international relations.

The Mexican woman, wife of a migrant worker working on a farm at route 2, Kaukauna, was admitted to the hospital for a check-up Monday with a 12-year-old daughter attempting to serve as interpreter. A check of X-rays Tuesday showed the patient had tuberculosis and steps were taken immediately to have her transferred to Riverview Sanatorium.

Hospital officials, nurses and the doctor tried to explain the transfer to the patient, but since none could speak Spanish, Mrs. Berenice Elliott, hospital administrator, realized the message was not registering with the patient. She called firemen for the city ambulance and explained firemen might have trouble transferring the patient as she would be alarmed when placed on a stretcher and taken to an ambulance, not realizing what was happening.

Everyone Happy

Firemen suggested contacting Mrs. Sprenger at the high school and she wasted no time in driving to the hospital, heard the problem and explained the entire matter to the patient. She accompanied the patient to the sanatorium and explained how the husband and all the children would have to be checked for TB.

The ride to the sanatorium went smoothly, the patient happy to have someone explain what was going to happen in her native tongue, the hospital happy to have solved the problem and Mrs. Sprenger happy to have the opportunity to converse with a Spanish-speaking stranger.

The Waupaca High School cross country team closed a successful season by taking second place in the Central Wisconsin Conference. The Comets won the small schools championship at Shawano. $105,000 Facility, Funds For Land Rejected by Board OSHKOSH — By a one vote any building lost by fire or other means. The former produce building, which housed the 4-H exhibits was razed after the roof collapse under the weight of heavy snow two years ago. That building was 85 years old.

Other supervisors maintained the present time was not practical for such a project in view of the pending budget increase. "Let's think about the old people," Supv. Earl Kohler, Menasha, maintained. "Some people are more interested in pigs than in people. What about the Golden Age people," he asked in reference to the new Pleasant Acres building project being proposed.

The county fair, park and conservation committee recommended including $105,000 in the 1964 budget for an all-purpose building 110 by 160 feet in size. This could be placed at the south end of the fair grounds.

The obligation to the fair association was that under terms of the lease the county must "replace as soon as practicable" the building lost by fire or other means. The former produce building, which housed the 4-H exhibits was razed after the roof collapse under the weight of heavy snow two years ago. That building was 85 years old.

Lawrence Instructors Lectures Will Cover Two Forms of Art

Two Lawrence College art faculty members will give lectures this weekend, one on the campus and one at a professional meeting in Bloomington, Ind.

Henry E. Coleman, instructor in art, will give a talk on "The Carvers vs. the Constructionists" at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Worcester Art Center, before the Lawrence Art Association and the public.

Dr. Lawrence D. Steefel, Jr., associate professor of art, will give a paper "The Oddness of Manet" Friday at the University of Indiana. He will address the Midwest College Art Conference which draws membership from 30 states.

Coleman's talk coincides with the opening of a sculpture show by Italo Scanga of the University of Wisconsin, who is showing metal and metal polychrome sculpture. There is also a one-man show of paintings and prints by Steven French of the university.

Teaches Sculpture

Coleman, a sculptor himself, majored in that art form both at the College of William and Mary, where he did his undergraduate work, and at the State University of Iowa, where he recently received his M. A.

He has shown his sculpture at the Des Moines Art Center, the Virginia Highlands Art Festival at Abington, Va., at Charlottesville, Va., and at the College of William and Mary. Coleman is teaching a course in sculpture this year. It is the first time in almost two decades that sculpture has been formally included in the curriculum.

Dr. Steefel's appearance will be his second before the Midwest College Art Conference. Two years ago he spoke to the group meeting at the University of Illinois on "Twentieth Century Criticism."

Saw Originals

Steefel's topic will be based on an examination of the Manet "Luncheon in the Studio" which he made in Munich last year. During a year's leave of absence, Steefel saw all the significant Manets in Europe.

Steefel says, "I am going to talk about the retroactive influence of contemporary pop art which allows us to take a new look at Manet in terms of kinds of objects and situations he portrays, and redresses an imbalance in previous criticism. We now see the whole Manet; contemporary pop art allows us to accommodate his oddness."

Anticipated Revenues, Broader Base Offset Spending Increase Of $1,888; Lower Rate Possible

CHILTON — Although the Calumet County Board Wednesday approved a higher gross budget for 1964 the county's overall tax levy has decreased.

The 1964 budget for county and state purposes was kept in line with the current year's spending plan which totalled $772,969. The increase is only $1,888.

An increase in anticipated revenue from sources other than direct taxes and a broader tax base enables the lower levy of $153.847 compared to $173.859. In the face of an overall budget hike, a total of $271,010 is anticipated in outside revenues during 1964. This is $21,900 more than the $249,110 a year ago.

Average Tax Rate

If this lower tax levy were applied to a municipality, the average share of the county property tax levy and state charges would amount to a 41 cents per $1,000 of equalized valuation tax cut.

This averages out to a local millage rate of 4.05 per $1,000 of equalized valuation compared to $1.46 in this year's budget.

Deducting the outside revenues and a $50,000 transfer of unnumbered county funds, a total of $321,010, from the overall budget leaves $453,817 to be raised by taxes against the county's real and personal property in 1964.

County Purposes

The 1963 levy was applied against a base of $106,087,130 in taxable real and personal property in the county. The 1964 levy which is already $20,000 less than its predecessor, will be assessed against an $111,806,400 tax base.

The increase in equalized valuation during the year was $5.7 million.

Of the overall budget estimated expenditures for county purposes total $752,496. This is only $747 more than the $751,749 designated for county spending in the current year's budget.

The county's share of state forestry tax is $22,361 for 1964 compared with $21,219 for the current years. The increase is $1,112.

A total of $120,131 was appropriated for general government expenditures in 1964. This represents an $18,361 increase over the $101,770 set aside for this purpose a year ago.

Accounting for the main share of the boost are pay hikes for

Chilton Still Hopes for Title Tie

	W	L	T	Pct.
N. Holstein	7	0	0	1.000
Chilton	4	1	0	.800
Valders	5	3	0	.625
Kohler	4	2	1	.667
Shioya Falls	5	3	1	.619

CHILTON — Still entertaining dim hopes for a title tie, the Chilton Tigers close out their 1963 Eastern Wisconsin Conference grid campaign against Berlin here Friday night.

To gain a share of the crown the 6-1 Tigers need two things. A victory in their finale and a New Holstein loss. The victory is expected. The New Holstein setback isn't.

The undefeated Huskies, 7 - 0, seem to be getting stronger each week. Their offense is a potent mixture of passing and running, and the defensive unit has chalked up four shutouts. Kohler, 4-2-1, has a solid team but not enough to dump the Huskies.

At Chilton the contest will end the splendid high school football career of Tom Dhein. The fleet-footed back ran wild this year. An example is last week's performance when 10 carries resulted in 155 yards and three TD's.

The visiting Lions, 1-6, have had more than their share of injuries this year. Last week Quarterback Jim Ross returned to the lineup for the first time since early in the season when he suffered a broken hand. Ross responded with two scoring passes but then the Lions lost their fine running back, Jerry Krueger. His status for Friday's game is not known.

At Plymouth, the Sheboygan Falls Falcons will be seeking a winning record. The Falcons, 3-3-1, are favored to dump the demoralized Panthers, 1-5-1.

Oostburg, paced by Dave Hilbelink, will be heavily favored to dump Kiel. The Flying Dutchmen can attain a .500 record, their best since joining the conference, with a win. Kiel is winless.

The Valders Vikings drew the last bye and thereby ended their season a week ago with a 5-3 mark.

Brillion Riders Name Officers

BRILLION — Reeve Winkler Sr. has been elected president of the Silver Spur Riding Club.

Other officers are vice president, Eric Enneper; secretary, Mrs. Jerry Boettcher, and treasurer, Harland Schwartz.

At a recent meeting plans were discussed for the group's hayride Nov. 9. Ronald Riemer of rural Hilbert will furnish horses. In charge of arrangements are chairman Dick Arps, Delmar Richter and Elliot Miley.

Three members of the club were awarded prizes for their participation in junior horse shows sponsored by the group. They were Laurie Miller, Gary Koerth and Lonnie Enneper.

The club has suspended its meetings until March.

Clintonville A of C Announces Date for Athletics Team Fete

CLINTONVILLE—Dec. 14 has been announced as date of the Clintonville Association of Commerce sponsored dinner at Fischer's Riviera Supper club to honor the Clintonville Athletics and their manager, Fred Beckman.

The dinner will be in recognition of the Athletics' Grand Championship of the FABA for the last three consecutive years and for having won it a total of five times.

Mert Albert is chairman of arrangements. Other members are Guy Fandrey, John Heidersheid, Don Thompson, Don Jirschele and Milt Boehlke.

100 Chilton Children Net $105 for UNICEF Drive

CHILTON — The UNICEF sponsored a coin counting party drive Tuesday night netted a total of $105, according to the Rev. Quentin Moeschberger, pastor of Ebenezer United Church by Christ.

The church committee was approximately 100 youngsters headed by Mrs. Denton Aebisch took part in the trick-or-treat drive. She was assisted by Mrs. campaign with about 80 of them John Miller, Mrs. Willis Uhlencoming from the Ebenezer congregation. The congregation's Christian Social Action Committee and seventh and eighth grade tee organized the drive and girls.

Shawano Deanery of Catholic Women Meet

CLINTONVILLE — The St. Rose Christian Mother-Altar Society was host to the fall meeting of the Shawano Deanery of the Council of Catholic Women at the St. Rose school hall Thursday. More than 100 members attended.

Theme of the conference was "The Mass" and was dedicated to the Very Rev. Joseph Schaefer.

Mass was offered at the St. Rose Church at 11 a.m.

Luncheon was served at noon at the school hall with Mrs. Anthony Henn and Mrs. Donald Christensen, co-chairmen.

The Rev. Anthony Baier, pastor of St. Jude parish, Green Bay, was the principal speaker at the after-noon program. His topic was "Christ In the Mass."

Mrs. Carl Trembl, Green Bay, president of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, presented a message, "You Are My Branches."

Mrs. Elmer Halaychick, Menasha, Diocesan Council of Catholic Women spiritual development chairman, and Mrs. Russell Weller, Clintonville, diocesan chairman for libraries and literature, also spoke.

The spring deanery meeting will be in April at Gresham.

The afternoon program concluded with the presentation of a skit, "Manners (?) at Mass," under the direction of Mrs. George Tooley, Clintonville, deanery spiritual development chairman. Mrs. Henry Hankins was co-chairman. Mrs. T. D. Ellis directed the production. Props were arranged by Mrs. Kori and Mrs. Clarence Smith. Publicity and programs were handled by Mrs. Merton Pevonka. Thirty-one members of the St. Rose parish participated in the skit.

Golf Club to Give Awards, Select Officers

CLINTONVILLE—Two directors will be elected and awards presented at the annual meeting of the Clintonville Riverside Golf Club at 8 p.m. Nov. 13 at the clubhouse.

The terms of Earl Paape and Milt Boehlke expire. The present board includes Rex Michaelis, president; Howard Canada, vice president; Boehlke, secretary and treasurer. Dr. John Williamson and Paape. The board meets and elects its own officers following the election at the annual meeting.

Presentation of awards will be made to the winners of the various flights in the club tournament.

Clintonville Rifle Club to Resume

CLINTONVILLE — Plans for Junior Rifle Club meetings again this year have been announced by Rev. Laske, representative of the Lions Club.

Fifty-six boys and girls have registered and blanks still are available at the junior high school office. There are 28 in the advanced and 28 in the beginners group.

Instructors will be National Guard members, Myron Marshak and Leon Steenbock. Instruction begins with the advanced group on Nov. 5 and 6 at the Armory. The advanced group will be divided into two classes.

The beginners group first meeting will be Nov. 26, after which it will be divided into two classes.

Arrangements. Other members are Guy Fandrey, John Heidersheid, Don Thompson, Don Jirschele and Milt Boehlke.

Comet Runners Take Fifth in Regional Meet

WAUPACA — The Waupaca High School cross country team closed the 1963 season in fifth place in the regional contest in the small schools division.

Coach LeRoy Haberkorn reported Berlin and Clintonville finished first and second and will compete in the state contest. Berlin had 41 points and Clintonville followed with 91. Chilton with 106, Weyauwega 112 and Waupaca 118.

Scoring for the Comets were John Woody, eighth place; Wayne Much, 15th; Tony Sill, 19th; Larry Belt, 34th, and Thane Mules, 42nd. Tom Diver, who usually runs in the top division, was unable to compete because of illness. The other Comet runners were Richard Wagner and Dennis Hammond.

east corner of the fairgrounds and would not require purchase of the six lots, committee members said.

Leonard Reinke of the architectural firm of Irion and Reinke, Oshkosh, outlined five different types of building and where they could be located. These ranged from $35,000 to $105,000.

Supv. John Heigl, Neenah, moved to amend the motion to insert the $35,000 building in place of the $105,000 structure. This would be 70 by 144 feet in size and unheated and without plumbing. This would be slightly shorter than the building which was razed. This motion lost by a 41 to 8 vote as supervisors argued the building should have plumbing and be heated and might as well be used the entire year instead of just the summer months.

Plumbing, Heating The board then voted 26 to 25 in favor of the $50,000 project which would be the same building as the $35,000 structure, but with plumbing and heating included. The building is a steel rigid frame structure with a 70-foot clear span and 24-foot bays. It would have a concrete floor and insulated steel wall side panels. The roof would be of painted metal with interior insulation.

After amending the original resolution to substitute the $50,000 figure for the $105,000 plan, the board vote on the final resolution as amended was 30 to 21.

Several supervisors switching over after the crucial decision was made on the amendment.

Crash Ends Joy Ride for Boy From Illinois

NEW LONDON — A joy ride to northern Wisconsin came to a halt early Wednesday for a 15-year-old runaway Illinois youth when he fell asleep while driving his mother's car and crashed into a light pole on South Pearl St.

The boy told city police he had taken his mother's car without permission Tuesday night and drove to northern Wisconsin. He was returning to his Oak Park, Ill., home when the accident occurred at 4:30 a.m.

Before striking the light pole, the car struck a metal trash container. The container, valued at $80, was demolished and the pole bent. Damages to the 1962 convertible were estimated at more than $500.

The boy's parents were notified and his mother arrived in New London Wednesday afternoon to take him home. Police Chief Jack Aigiers said the youth would be referred to juvenile authorities and appear in juvenile court in his home city.

Cheesemaker Indicted for Tax Evasion

MILWAUKEE — An indictment charging a Fox Valley cheesemaker with tax evasion was handed down Wednesday by a federal grand jury after testimony of 35 dairy farm operators.

Louis W. Staudenmaier Jr., an assistant U. S. attorney, has been questioning farmers from Waupaca, Outagamie and Shawano counties in secret about the sale of their products to the cheesemaker.

Staudenmaier said the indictment has been impounded until the arrest is made. The hearings will continue, the attorney said.

The hearings are similar to those conducted in 1961 which resulted in arrests of several Fox Valley cheesemakers later convicted of tax evasion.

Judge Grants Two Divorces

Two divorces have been granted in Outagamie County Court Branch 3 by Judge Raymond P. Dohr.

Myrtle Stuber, 39, 2022 Hickory Court, was divorced from George Stuber, 317 Eden Ave., Kaukauna. She charged cruel and inhuman treatment. The couple was married June 30, 1962 and separated March 7, 1963. There were no alimony or support settlements ordered.

Marion N. Graham, 24, 230 E. Hancock St., was divorced from George Graham, 25, 705 N. Appleton St. She charged cruel and inhuman treatment and was awarded custody of one child. Graham was ordered to pay weekly support payments of $22.50. There was no alimony. The couple was married Oct. 2, 1959 and separated June 18, 1963.

County Holds 200 Acres Of Tax Deed Land for Hunting, Fishing Use

OSHKOSH — Tax deeds to several properties in the Town of Winneconne and Town of Wolf River will be kept by the county and used for fishing, hunting, and other recreational purposes. County Board members agreed Wednesday afternoon.

Involved is a 30.64 acre site in the Town of Winneconne which adjoins 516.97 acres already owned by the county and acquired through tax deed several years ago. Both of these properties are under water and located in Lake Butte des Morts.

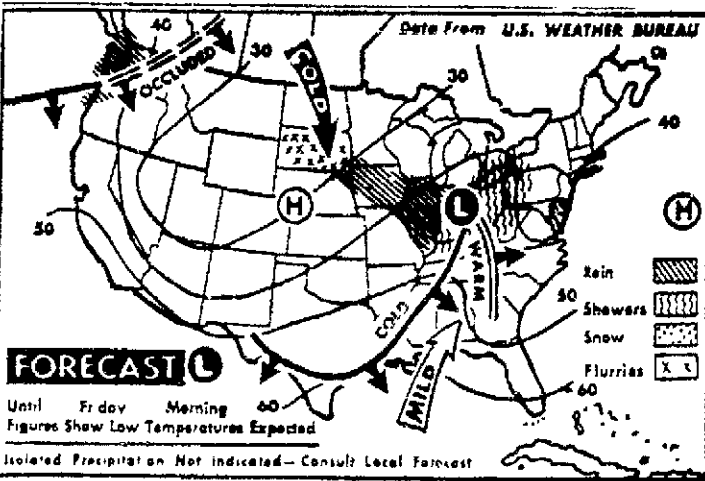

The Town of Wolf River property being kept amounts to 169.10 acres and this too is under water. It is located along the Wolf River outlet into Lake Poygan in Sections 33 and 24 of the Town of Wolf River.

These properties were placed under the jurisdiction of the county fair, park and conservation committee.

Waupaca Thief Tests Ax, Then Takes It

WAUPACA — Whoever stole the ax from the tool shed in the Lakeside Cemetery Monday night wanted to be sure it was in good working order before taking it.

City police said the double-bitted ax was taken from the shed and used to cut down a tree in front of the shed before it was taken. Entry to the shed was gained by breaking a window and crawling through the window, police said.

Light Showers or Rain is forecast for Thursday night from the lower Great Lakes area and the Ohio valley westward through the central midwest to sections of the north central plains and be cooler in the western half of the nation. It will remain cold in New England, but higher temperatures are expected in the rest of the east. (AP Wirephoto Map) county officials, a $3,000 boost in the election appropriation to finance next year's general elections, and a $3,311 state charge for income tax processing not found in last year's budget.

However, other government costs held fairly steady. A breakdown of the appropriation shows: County board $12,000, county clerk $16,000, county treasurer $8,980, assessor of taxes $7,700, district attorney $8,905, D.A. criminal investigation fund $100, family court commissioner $1,300, income tax processing, $3,311, county court $16,190, circuit court $16,645, law library $1,000, coroner $2,000, courthouse $15,000, elections $5,500, special accounting and auditing $3,000, and property liability and insurance $2,000.

The health appropriation totals $16,012 and is down more than $5,000. The reduction is made possible by a $5,500 reduction in the county payments for patients in other county sanatoria.

Other health appropriations include $200 for vital statistics, $9,270 for the county nurse and $1,050 for health clinics.

The general appropriation for protection of persons and property in 1964 amounts to $82,245, a $3,232 drop.

A $4,500 cut to $3,000 in civil defense expenditures more than offsets moderate increases throughout the category.

Other 1964 appropriations include: Sheriff $11,500, traffic police $37,340, police radio operation $7,500, special police radio operation $3,000, crime laboratory, $175, dance and amusement supervision $2,500, register of deeds $11,380, apary inspection $200, fox bounty $950, inspect and weed control $600, undersheriff and deputies $3,500, and telephone services $1,200.

A sharp cutback in the appropriation for the county superintendent of schools brought about a reduction in the overall costs of education and recreation in 1964. The budget calls for $86, 841 compared with $91,920 for the current year.

The county superintendent's appropriation was sliced from $11,830 a year ago to $4,400, which reduced the valuation of property under the superintendent's jurisdiction brought about the cut.

Other appropriations include: Mentally retarded children $2,525, county school committee $845, tuition to outside training schools $1,000, aid to common schools $23,000, extension department $21,610, county park $22,361, and fairs and exhibits $5,000.

The major budget classification is charities and corrections. It amounts to $204,703 for 1964 compared with $214,221 for the current year.

A breakdown of the appropriation shows:

Welfare administration $16,027, poor in outside institutions, $4,500, outdoor poor relief $1,200, Calumet Homestead $85,000, old age assistance and blind aid special relief $150, old age assistance $17,000, aid to disabled $11,000, aid to blind, $250, aid to dependent children $9,000, veterans service commission $4,300, veterans service officer $6,300, care of soldiers' graves $1,600, jail and sheriff's residence $6,500, child welfare service $4,500, hospitals for mentally ill $27,762, Winnebago State Hospital $885, Central State Hospital $382, Northern Wisconsin Colony $2,445, Southern Wisconsin Colony $447, Wisconsin Diagnostic Center $44, Wisconsin School for Boys, Wales $124, Wisconsin Child Center $535, Wisconsin General Hospital $1,639, and Wisconsin Orthopedic Hospital $2,039.

Conservation and development will cost $1,350. Included are $600 for conservation expense, $250 for soil conservation education and $500 for zoning.

The highway budget totals $210,912, an increase of more than $5,800. It includes $15,000 for administration, $55,000 for county trunk maintenance, $108,000 for federal aid secondary and other projects, $20,000 for snow removal and $12,112 in county aid to bridges.

A breakdown of the $30,300 appropriated for miscellaneous expenses shows:

County's share of the state retirement fund $6,000, county's share of public employee social security $4,800, health insurance $4,000, unclassified expense $500, and contingent fund $15,000.

Estimated revenues for 1964 are up $21,900 and total $271,010. Major factors in the hike is a $15,000 increase to $85,000 in Calumet Homestead revenues and a $5,000 hike to $10,800 in highway aids.

Other anticipated revenues include:

Income tax from the state $40,000, tax fees and penalties $1,000, inheritance tax, $1,000, utility tax $9,000, county clerk's fees $800, county court fees and costs $2,000, circuit court fees and costs $500, sheriff's fees $600, register of deeds fees $5,000, dance licenses and permits $2,500, county ordinance fines $4,000, penal fines for county $1,000, state aid for the county nurse $1,000, state aid for mentally retarded children $4,000, police radio rental $810, and general fund investment interest $4,000.

Royalton Man Hurt in Crash

Jock Craig, 22, Injured in Mishap Near Waupaca

WAUPACA — Jock Craig, 22, Royalton, was injured and his car damaged about 1:30 a.m. Monday when it left U.S. 10 five miles west of Waupaca, according to county police.

Craig told police he fell asleep while driving west. When he awoke, he tried to pull the car back onto the road but it skidded sideways into a large rock and rying a pipe which came loose rolled over. Craig was taken to the Waupaca hospital where he was treated for back injuries.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,400.

Two cars were damaged about driving west.

11:30 a.m. Monday on U.S. 45 one mile north of Bear Creek Corners. Joseph L. Kozens, 55, Ironwood, Mich., told police a truck stopped in front of him and when he turned left to pass he saw another car coming and attempted to turn further to the left to go into a side road. A car driven by Bernard F. Mauel, 70, Marion, skidded 120 feet before striking the Kozens car, police said. Damages were estimated at $300.

Two trucks were involved in an accident at 8:10 a.m. Friday on U.S. 10 in Fremont.

Craig told police he fell asleep while driving west. When he awoke, he tried to pull the car back onto the road but it skidded sideways into a large rock and rying a pipe which came loose rolled over. Craig was taken to the Waupaca hospital where he was treated for back injuries.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,400.

Clintonville Asks for Traffic Police

CLINTONVILLE — The city council Wednesday night approved a resolution seeking a county traffic patrolman here to provide "better traffic enforcement in the county area surrounding the city."

The resolution said traffic from and through the city is heavier than other municipalities in the Clintonville area.

"Various county trunk highways and state highways funnel traffic in and out of the city, adding to the traffic hazard," the resolution said.

Because of this heavier traffic, "the incidence of accidents in the area surrounding Clintonville is heavier" than in other nearby areas of the county.

The petition also said Clinton-

Tigerton Man Fined On Trapping Charges

CLINTONVILLE — Howard Seefeldt, 36, route 2, Tigerton Wednesday was fined a total of $35 on charges of tending traps without a license and tending untaged traps.

Seefeldt appeared before Municipal Justice Nathan Wiese after he was arrested Wednesday morning by conservation wardens on a complaint signed by State Conservation Warden Jack Kunath.

DeGaulle Suspicious of U. S. Defense of Europe

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—French President de Gaulle, almost 73 now, said once: "Old age is a shipwreck." But, if the waters of time are lapping at his decks, he is still on the bridge, still a captain and very much a critic.

The Kennedy administration's duel with him, compared with De Gaulle's ominous and blunt suspicions about American defense of Europe, has an almost delicate elegance in its pointed but restrained thrusts.

De Gaulle
Repeatedly the administration has criticized him without naming him, as if still trying to be neighborly with the man next door who keeps honking his horn all night and building fires on the sidewalk.

De Gaulle, dreaming of a resurrected France since his father talked to him about it in childhood, must be a realist enough to know France lacks the resources to be a No. 1 power again, like the United States and Russia.

But reality beclouds a dream. And De Gaulle, perhaps out of frustration and injured pride, persists in making France sound bigger than it is if only by the tactics of obstruction and hostility.

He had blocked Britain from joining the Common Market and endangers the Western Alliance by suggesting Europe cannot depend indefinitely on the United States, its pledged ally, to stand beside it in time of danger.

Kennedy Tip-Toes
Nevertheless, the Kennedy administration tip-toes around him. Not so Sen. J. W. Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat who doesn't have to deal directly with the Frenchman.

This week in the Senate Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, slammed head-on into De Gaulle.

De Gaulle recently boasted that France not only isn't borrowing from others, "particularly Americans," but is paying off its debts to them and "even on occasion is granting them certain facilities."

Fulbright reminded him dryly that France still hasn't paid the United States almost $6.5 billion it has owed since World War I. Back of Fulbright's attack was De Gaulle's news conference slurs last July 29.

Other Episodes
But back of that were similar episodes. De Gaulle inflicted a brutal embarrassment on President Kennedy last Jan. 14 by holding a news conference — and this was hardly an accident — a few hours before Kennedy sent a highly optimistic message to Congress about this country's relations with its allies and the alliance itself.

"How fares the Grand Alliance?" Kennedy asked. Then he answered himself: "Free Europe is entering into a new phase of its long and brilliant history."

But before Kennedy could get the words out De Gaulle, at his Paris meeting with the press, slammed the Common Market door in Britain's face, rejected this country's proposal for a multinational nuclear force among the NATO allies, and said France opposed a Common Market "under American leadership and domination."

Poisoned Arrow
On April 19 De Gaulle, shooting another poisoned arrow, said France could not be sure of the intentions of its allies, much less of its enemies.

To offset the kind of suspicions De Gaulle was trying to arouse about the United States, Kennedy at Frankfurt, West Germany, on June 25 pledged to risk the destruction of American cities to preserve European freedom.

Two days later, June 27, France's information minister, after newsmen were told he would give De Gaulle's reaction to Kennedy, warned Europe against trusting its security indefinitely to the United States.

By this reasoning, of course, how could the other allies ever trust any promises De Gaulle made for France once De Gaulle was no longer president?

NATO Promise
But while doing all this talking De Gaulle still had not assigned to the NATO Alliance all the divisions France had promised it years ago. For that matter, no other country but the United States has kept its NATO promise.

Belittling
The De Gaulle belittling technique was getting stronger. On Oct. 27 Secretary of State Dean Rusk also went to Frankfurt and reassured the allies of American loyalty. And almost timidly, it was so oblique, he told them they were not putting in NATO all the divisions they had promised.

This could be interpreted as a slap at De Gaulle. Rusk didn't say it was. But Fulbright was direct. He said "for too long France's voice has been a voice of negation and dissent within the Western community."

And, when he meant De Gaulle, he said De Gaulle. He suggested the Frenchman get over his pride.

What About a New Calendar?

The action of the Ecumenical Council in expressing the willingness of the Roman Catholic Church to accept a fixed Sunday for Easter and a generally reformed civil calendar arouses real hopes that our crazy calendar situation may some day be re-solved. The overwhelming vote of approval by the Council is evidence that the possibility of such a change is considered seriously by the Catholic hierarchy.

The confusion over the present calendar is a result of man's attempt to make the intractable motions of the sun and its planets conform to the mundane concerns of everyday life

The earth completes its annual orbit around the sun in 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 46 seconds. The moon passes through 12 phases in 354 days, 8 hours and 48 minutes. And the earth revolves on its axis approximately once in 24 hours. One problem is that none of these astronomical movements has any relation to the other.

The other problem is that the terms man uses in computing time, seconds, minutes, hours, are theoretical and bear no relationship to the motion of the sun, moon or earth. And in attempting to express astronomical movements in terms of days, weeks and months, some authority must impose an artificial calendar on the chaotic astronomical data.

Several solutions have been suggested. One is a 13-month year. Another, which has received considerable support, is called the World Calendar.

This would provide a year of 12 months.

To the Moon or Not?

Of course few Americans are apt to believe literally Premier Khrushchev's statement that Russia is not in the race to the moon with the United States and will be merely interested in watching our progress. But his words will probably influence, if only subconsciously, Congressional pressure already building to put off our own crash program into space.

The week before Khrushchev's surprise announcement, Senator Fulbright began to try to get the Senate to change the top priority status of the moon shot program. Fulbright contends that exploring space may be important but it should be considered "in the context of over-all national needs, distinguishing between urgent and marginal goals, between programs which are essential and those which are merely desirable."

In Fulbright's opinion there are more important things for the United States to do than get to the moon by 1970. He was not convinced even then that Russia was going to try to beat us but in any event did not think it calamitous if they did. It is more important, said Fulbright, for the U.S. to solve "problems of inadequate education and rising unemployment, of urban blight and rising crime." Moreover, he felt our national prestige would be much greater if we solved those problems for the world to see than if we landed the first man on the moon.

Of course this is largely an abstract argument. We have no assurance that diverting funds from the moon shot to the problems Fulbright cited would solve those problems. There seems to be some opinion in Washington indeed that solutions are well nigh impossible. And one unstated but recognized reason for the expenditure of Each three-month quarter would follow a regular pattern of 31, 30 and 30 days. The 365th day would be known as World'sday and would come at the end of the 364-day year. For leap year another intercalendary day would be inserted between June 30 and July 1.

Under the World Calendar each date of the year would fall on the same day of the week annually. Thus one printed calendar could be used for all years.

The problem with Easter is that setting of the date is based on a lunar concept while the calendar is reckoned by the sun. It falls on the Sunday after the first full moon on or after the vernal equinox. In the 25 years from 1934 to 1959 the date varied all the way from March 25 to April 25.

The World Calendar would fix Easter on Sunday, April 8. And of course this would also result in a fixed date each year for Ash Wednesday, Good Friday and Palm Sunday.

The Ecumenical Council did not suggest that the Catholic Church take any leadership for a change in these matters. Rather it said the Council was "not opposed" to either change. But even in this form the action was regarded as highly significant. And promoters of concepts like the World Calendar may be expected to take new heart from this encouragement.

Obviously changing the calendar faces many hurdles. Other church organizations would have to agree. But clearing up this confusion is so obviously needed in our modern world that we all must hope the movement will proceed from here.

Khrushchev was certainly well aware of the indecision in this country over whether or not the crash program was wise. It could well be that his seemingly off-hand statement was really meant to slow down our efforts and give Russia a better chance of getting to the moon first. Despite all the talk about the pressures upon Khrushchev because of military threats from NATO and Red China, the problems of supporting satellite countries and the agricultural failures, there is no evidence at all that the Russian people are forcing more emphasis upon consumer goods at the expense of the military program. Khrushchev's shrugging off the moon program was contrary to the confidence expressed in it recently by the Russian cosmonauts on tour. And we are likely to overemphasize Russian economic problems because we naturally hope they are serious.

A decision on the moon program must be considered, not only in relation to other national problems, but from the purely military view. Is the single fact of landing men on the moon of sufficient military importance for the security of the United States to warrant the immense cost? We are not concerned about national image. But are we in dire danger if Russia gets there first? And secondly, it must be considered in light of how serious will be the effect of this crash program upon the economy of the United States. Already more than half the scientists and engineers in this country work for the government.

Laymen of course cannot answer the military questions. But we can look at the answers to those questions and then judge accordingly as to the importance of the moon shot. This is what Congress must do and it will be no easy decision.

planners. Only 14 of the 40 refused to carry the entire experiment through to pulling the switches marked "Danger, Severe Shock" and merely "X X X." Although the "pupil" was not really receiving any shocks at all, he appeared to flinch, then to cry out and even began banging his head on the wall as the shocks became more severe. Meanwhile the "teachers" viewed through one-way windows broke into loud laughter, near hysteria and even showed signs of nearing a nervous collapse.

The experiments are supposed to indicate something about why apparently nice people went along with sending millions to the gas chambers in Germany or took part in other concentration camp atrocities although there was no hate in their hearts. The pressure of blind obedience would appear to be greater than many have thought.

But we still are not quite sure as to what or who was being tested. As the "teachers" began to writhe as they seemed to inflict pain—or perhaps to enjoy it—was anyone watching the conductors of the experiment through one-way windows?

Political Lesson to be Learned

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Oct. 29, 1963.

Let not the lesson be lost on Wisconsin men.

A friend who was with the Army of the Potomac when the results of the Ohio and Pennsylvania elections reached it, has this to say:

"You cannot imagine the joy they felt at learning there was sufficient loyalty still at home, after sparing them for the field, to rebuke and defeat the united hordes of Peace Democrats, rebel sympathizers and Copperheads at the ballot box."

Let Wisconsin see to it she also sends glad tidings to her brave boys in the field on the eve of the 3d of November.

It is not merely the election of our ticket that we should strive for. The Republic in her peril demands more of Wisconsin. It demands the weight of a decided majority as a testimony of her unwavering loyalty. If we could be guaranteed 10,000 majority on the home vote, it ought not to cause us to abate our efforts or relax a sinew in this struggle.

Every vote that can be added to the majority is precious as an expression of unanimity

Administration Lays Groundwork For New Wheat Price Support Bill

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

While the Kennedy administration is busily trying to arrange a huge wheat sale to Russia, it is also quietly setting the stage to put through Congress a costly new plan for government price supports for this grain.

The administration's estimate of the cost of this two-year price support program is $381,250,000.

President Kennedy and his congressional chiefs are aware there is no chance of getting anything done on this new farm legislation this year. It's too late for that. What they are doing is laying the groundwork for action in 1964 — a major election year when the President, the entire House of Representatives and 34 senators, 25 of them Democrats, must run.

Administration strategy is to start the ball rolling as early as possible on this new farm program to enhance its prospects of enactment next year on the eve of a highly uncertain electoral battle.

Two little-noticed moves signaled this significant backstage maneuvering:

* Circulation among influential members of Congress, particularly from surplus commodity areas, of a set of official statistics showing that farm price supports and "related programs" since 1933 have cost American taxpayers the staggering total of $36.4 billion.

That is more than 10 per cent of the national debt.

* Introduction of a so-called "two-year wheat bill" providing for $2-a-bushel wheat in the domestic market and competitive prices in the world market—by three staunch administration supporters, Senate Whip Hubert Humphrey, Munn., and Senators Eugene McCarthy, Minn., and Quinton Burdick, N. Dak.

Senator George Aiken, Vt., senior Republican on the Agriculture Committee, asked the President, at a White House conference on selling surplus grain to the Soviet bloc, whether other commodities would be offered the Communists.

"Yes," replied the President. "Cotton and dairy products."

The U. S. has surplus stocks of more than 12 million bales of cotton; 293,870 million lbs of butter; 24,332 million lbs of cheese; 416,650 million lbs of powdered milk.

GREASING THE SKIDS — The set of charts detailing the stupendous expenditures for farm price supports since the start of that program in October 1933 is particularly noteworthy for two reasons:

* This is the first time official stress is being placed on the immense cost of such legislation. Always in the past the financial burden of such farm aid has been soft-pedaled. But now the administration is going out of its way to make a powerful point of it.

* These statistics reveal that of the $36.4 billion spent for price supports in the 30 years of their existence, $20.8 billion is listed as "Commodity Credit Corporation losses." That is, some two-thirds of the colossal cost of this farm aid has gone down the drain in various ways.

Largest expenditures were $19.9 billion for wheat; $4.9 billion for feed grains; $3.5 billion for dairy products; $3.363 billion for cotton; $566 million for soybeans; $538 million for wool; $3.5 billion for interest; $2.1 billion for "wartime consumer subsidies."

Major CCC losses were $4 billion for feed grains; $3.1 billion for dairy products; $2.5 billion for wheat; $1.8 billion for cotton; $3.2 billion for interest.

Gigantic as the $36.4 billion over-all price support total is, it is actually not the whole gering total of $36.4 billion. That is more than 10 per cent of the national debt.

Gigantic as the $36.4 billion over-all price support total is, it is actually not the whole story. Not included in that monumental figure is another $2.9 billion for "export subsidies for cash sales" from October 1933 to July 1, 1963.

This addition raises the grand total to $39.3 billion — which for 30 years is an annual average of more than $1.3 billion.

In 1964, then-Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson submitted a CCC report to the Senate Agriculture Committee showing that upwards of $16 billion had been spent for price supports — in the first 20 years of this farm program. In the nine years since then, it has cost another $20.4 billion.

NEW BARGAIN PLAN — While Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey, in introducing the new wheat bill, made no reference to these staggering agricultural expenditures, he laid great emphasis on the moderate cost of his proposal.

"This bill is in the interest of the taxpayers," the Minnesotan told his colleagues, "because it would reduce over-all costs. This bill would cost the taxpayers and the government much less than the current wheat program, and much less than the one which was rejected in the referendum earlier this year. This bill provides the best income for farmers at less cost to the taxpayers; and it permits the wheat farmer to compete in world markets without destroying the International Wheat Agreement."

Of the estimated $381,250 million cost of this new farm plan, $281,250 million would be for "direct payments" and $100 million for "conservation payments."

The legislation was summed up by Humphrey as follows: "It is a voluntary two-year special conservation program designed to reduce Commodity Credit Corporation stocks, induce the resumption of the use of wheat for feed, and to minimize or eliminate the amount of export subsidies and diversion payments. If it works well, we can extend and eliminate marketing quota programs permanently for wheat."

Democratic leaders are taking soundings in the House and Senate Agriculture Committees on starting hearings on the measure this year. If they can do that, it would expedite consideration next year.

It remains to be seen how far they get on this.

Politicians' Reliance On Public Opinion Poll Irks Veteran Reporter

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — An open letter to the professional politicians of Wisconsin.

Dear Friends:

It is time that somebody blew the whistle on the increasing reliance in Wisconsin politics upon the public opinion "poll."

There was a time during my own experience in covering Wisconsin affairs political that I could chat with a politician and come away with his personal and responsible assessment of campaign situations, candidate availability, the relevance of issues and the other raw materials of politics and party competition.

Today it is hard to consult a political professional without having him relate confidentially the results of the latest poll he has taken, his political headquarters has taken, or somebody who is a friend of his brother-in-law has just taken.

There are several disappointing things about this unquestioning reliance on high fee - charging analysts and hucksters and self - styled public opinion researchers, it seems to me. First is the evident abdication of the responsibility of the politician who has any pretense to leadership.

FINGER SUBSTITUTE
I know of course that the practical politician has always had an attentive finger in the wind. But as a reporter who is as interested in factual assessments on his own account as the candidate or campaign manager is on his account, I would prefer the size-up of an experienced and diligent politician in Racine, taken in combination with another from Milwaukee, and half a dozen others from other representative zones, to the casual and random samplings of a commercial agency which may or may not be willing to submit its methods to an audit.

The abject reliance upon the pollster will one day make our politicians blind followers of the adding machines, rather than leaders of public opinion which is their legitimate and highly honorable function.

Public opinion research, I am informed by the academicians in the field, is now a highly developed science. But it is extremely complex and necessarily costly. I have the most profound doubt that some of the poll results which are forever being whispered to me on street corners and in off the record memoranda involve either the precise techniques or the money expenditure that would entitle them to credibility.

I have a deep suspicion, indeed, that many of them are phoney.

EXAMPLES
I remember some examples. One man now holding high public office in Wisconsin would have retired after his first term, had he believed the results of a poll he had bought...

He ran anyway, was reelected, and then bought another poll three years later when he wanted to run for another office. Again the poll showed he couldn't win, but he had gone too far to retreat. He won, by a margin that in any fair comparison was decisive. In the last presidential election a politician who is proud of his realistic facing of facts told me solemnly but privately what he had learned by a poll. He was wrong by nearly 200,000 votes, which in a state size of Wisconsin is about as wrong as it is possible to get. Perhaps he had a hunch all along that his pollster advice was unreliable. He insisted upon anonymity for the prediction.

We are going to see a good deal of each other before the votes are again counted in the next Wisconsin election a year hence.

So this is to ask for a favor: don't tell me what the pollsters are telling you. Tell me what you think on your own belief, on the experience and knowledge that brought you your political rank in the first place, and which entitles me to regard you as a source of advice in making my own appraisals.

Strictly Personal

All Victories Over Nature Are Temporary

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices: What many employers fail to understand is that a subordinates are so naive who never finds fault with his superior is either a fool or a hypocrite; if a fool, he is useless; if hypocrite, he is dangerous.

Some orator unremittently solemn for fear that if they encourage the audience to enjoy a smile at the right place, they may finally be unable to prevent the audience from laughing at them, at the wrong place.

Speaking of humor, there is a sad and sardonic quality about Old World wit that younger (and luckier) nations like ours have not yet grown up to — like that marvelous Yiddish proverb I ran across recently: "If the rich could hire other people to die for them, the poor could make a wonderful living."

Nothing in the world is easier than to be radical when you have little to lose and conservative when you have a great deal to lose; we should pay careful attention only to those whose views seem to cut across the grain of their immediate self-interest, for then we may be reasonably sure that the personal equation is not the determining factor.

The basic frustration of the statesman and politician in the atomic age can hardly be comprehended by those standing on the outside; for the statesman has lost his ultimate tool, the threat of war (which now becomes simply the promise of mutual suicide), and his whole traditional mode of behavior is compelled to change — thus, the vacillations of modern governments are not a sign of weakness, but of quite rational fear.

A man is always the same man and, on the whole, wants only to be the same man, with a few improvements; but a woman would like to be a dozen different women, a part of every attractive woman she sees; and therefore her insatiable need for more and more clothes can be understood not as the trite joke it has become, nor as a matter of greed, but as her way of trying out different personalities and satisfying (however temporarily) her deep desire to assume every aspect of the Eternal Feminine.

All seeming "victories" over Nature are Pyrrhic victories for mankind; Nature returns in more subtle or potent form and takes its revenge — insecticides create a stronger breed of insects.

It is fatuous sentimentality to expect, or to ask, people to like one another more; all we have a right to ask is that they act kinder to those they don't particularly like; and unless civilization can learn that kindness is in our power, while liking is not, nothing but catastrophe awaits us.

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

Khrushchev says Russia isn't going to race us to the Moon. Old Russian saying: "You can't squeeze corn out of a piece of green cheese."

It looks as though Russia might not buy U.S. wheat after all. That's the sneaky Commies for you — not doing exactly what Dick Nixon says we shouldn't let them do.

Commerce Secretary Hodges says we should relax those old rules against trading with the Communists. Things are different now — those people have money.

Robert McNamara has decided that the Navy can't have another nuclear aircraft carrier. With Roger Staubach, who needs it?

The Army is happy about its experiment in airlifting all those troops to Europe. It was quick and quite cheap. They flew in the middle of the week and got family rates.

Smoked Fish To be Frozen In Processing

FDA Makes Request After Tracing Botulism Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Fisheries Institute has agreed to freeze Great Lakes area smoked fish immediately after completion of processing. The action is a result of recent botulism deaths traced to the product.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) announced the institute's decision Wednesday night.

Recommendation

FDA noted, however, that the announcement does not alter the FDA recommendation that all smoked fish products from the Great Lakes area now on grocery shelves or in homes be destroyed.

The recommendation dealt with smoked fish wrapped in plastic containers, not those in cans.

Label Packages

The institute, in a letter signed by president Lewis Goldstein, said it represents 90 to 95 per cent of U.S. fish smoking and curing production and dollar value.

In addition to agreeing to treat smoked fish as a frozen food, the institute agreed to plainly mark all packages of smoked fish "perishable—keep frozen."

Last Friday, the FDA recommended that housewives destroy any smoked fish they have that is wrapped in sealed plastic containers, unless known not to come from the Great Lakes area.

The recommendations were on findings of an FDA advisory committee on botulism which said that five deaths in Alabama and Tennessee and two deaths in Michigan occurred from Type E botulinum toxin. In all cases the victims had eaten smoked fish from the Great Lakes area.

The FDA said freezing immediately after processing, and maintaining in the frozen condition until delivered to the consumer, will prevent the development of botulism toxin in the product.

the Eisenhower philosophy during his eight years as president. Laird has been a leader in backing his colleague, Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., as a favorite son candidate for the presidency in 1964 and has not indicated publicly any other choice for the nomination.

Major GOP Role

As chairman, Laird would have a major role in shaping the platform to be presented to the 1964 Republican convention for adoption.

Laird has been a member of the platform committee at the last three national conventions. As chairman, he would have to see to it that platform was one that Goldwater, Rockefeller or any other possible presidential nominee could run on.

The 2,000-word statement of Republican principle and policy stressed individual liberty, limited government and diffusion of power rather than centralizing large sections of woodland with power in the federal government. It asked at one point son, 69, a retired banker and "which party acts more effectively to preserve and enlarge human freedom?"

5. An immediate end to each nation's campaign of abuse against the other's leaders and political system.

6. Morocco and Algeria to solve all future disputes by negotiation.

Hassen and Ben Bella prepared to leave for their capitals. Haile Selassie flew to Switzerland. Then the arguments resumed.

The zone to be evacuated by the Moroccans was not precisely defined in the agreement. Algerian officials said it included Hassi Beida and Tindjoub, the focal points of the recent fighting. The Moroccans said the two outposts were not included and their forces would continue to occupy them.

Negro Singer Says 'White Folks Don't Ever Talk to Us'

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—"Some folks seem to hate you on general principles," observed Mahalia Jackson, the famed Negro gospel singer.

"I can't understand why white folks don't ever really talk to Negroes," she continued.

"If they got to talking to us, then they might be able to understand what we're all about."

Miss Jackson made the comments in an interview before a concert Wednesday night at Yale.

Ecumenical Council Modern Art Forms Urged in Catholic Church Buildings

BY BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council all but completed work on the voted today to encourage the public worship, or liturgy, use of modern art forms in schema. They still must vote on Roman Catholic Church construction and decoration.

But the document approved appears likely they and Pope Paul VI will be able to promulgate the schema, with its wide reforms in Catholic worship, at a plenary session before the council recesses Dec. 4.

First Decree

This would make the liturgy schema the council's first decree, and would give the green light for national bishops' conferences to carry out the reforms.

Among these are the use of modern languages, in place of Latin, in the Mass and in the sacraments, such as baptism and marriage.

Council fathers voted 1,838 to 9 to approve the chapter, which deals with sacred art and furnishings. Another 94 fathers approved, but with reservations.
